Faculty Alumni

After years of faithful service at Cleveland High School, three of our teachers retired during the past year.

Mr. Frank W. Moody and Mr. John D. Bragg were on the original faculty when Cleveland High School opened in September 1915.

Miss Mary Klem came to teach at Cleveland in 1921.

In Memoriam

RALPH C. WILSON

With unique accord, we called him "Chief." It was, however, a very natural thing to do: He was tall — with a dignity seemingly adding to that stature; he was strict — but justly so; he avoided loquacity — but did not lack ideas; veteran of the First World War, he wished for something other than passivity in the second; and, to the end, in his private life, he deliberately avoided the coma of inactivity.

The boys in his classes created things — his standards were high; his Rifle Club — the club with the "waiting list" — gave to our school far more than local renown.

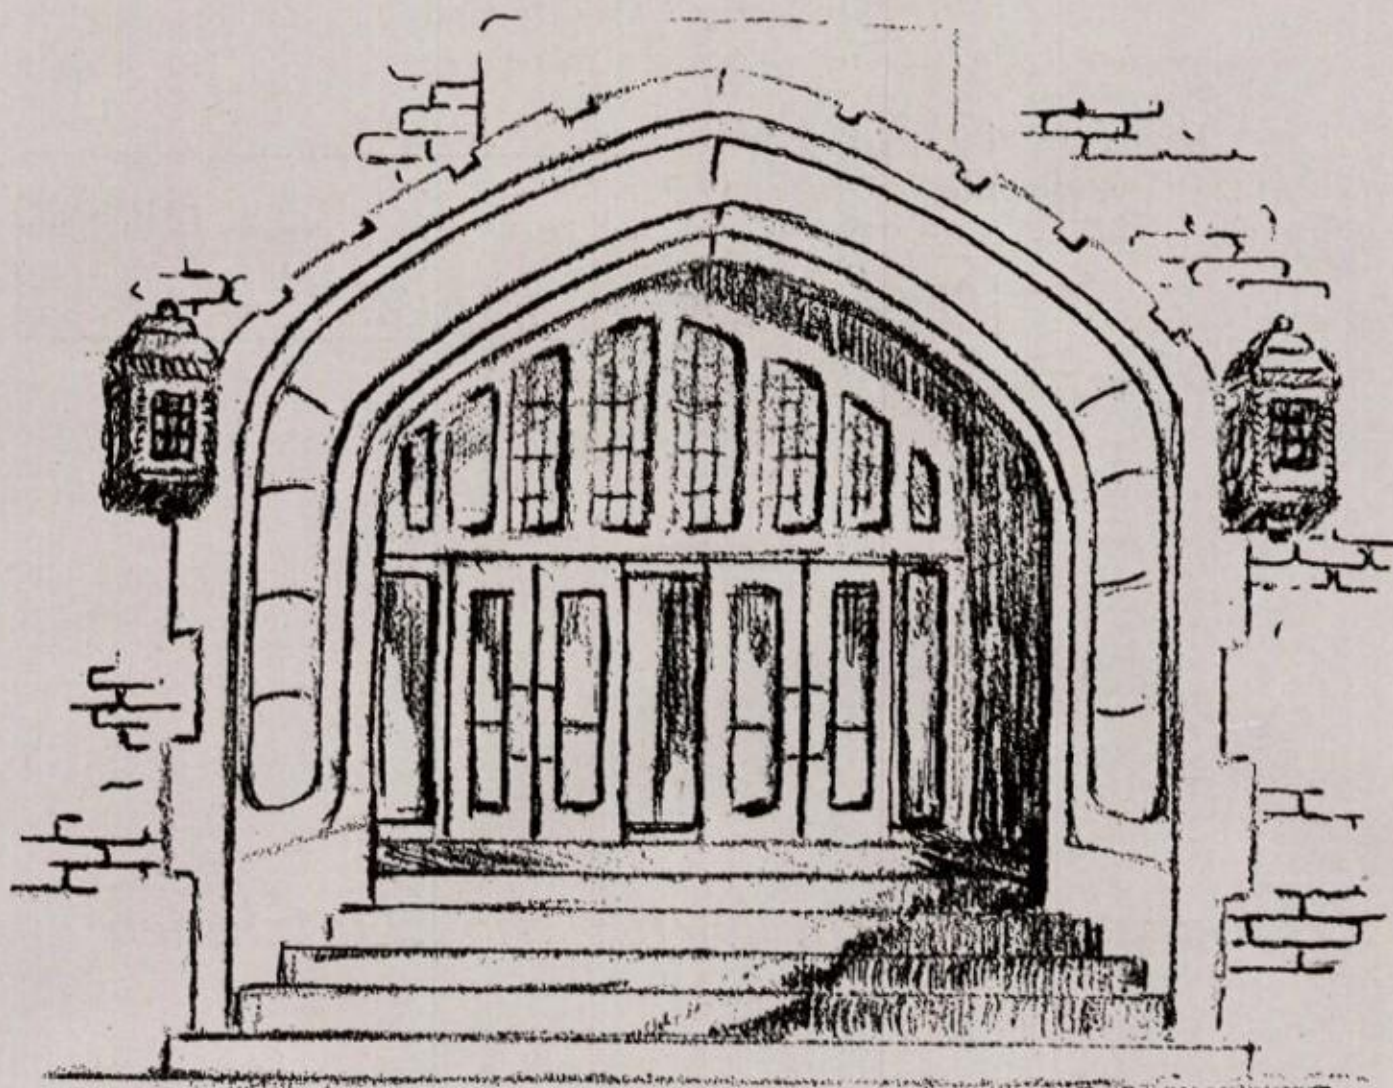

Yearly, boys followed him to his Minnesota summer camp, and, always, they and we will hold his memory.

Yes, Chief Wilson's passing will long be mourned, and his title ever undimmed.

CLARA TOWNSEND

It was with deep regret that we heard of the passing of Miss Clara Townsend, who taught in the Commercial Department of Cleveland for twenty years and who was retired several years ago.

Around the Year with the Dutchmen

"Around the Year With the Dutchmen"

In the early years of the History of St. Louis, there settled in the southern part of the city a number of families who had recently emigrated from Germany. After a while these people were erroneously given the name of "Dutchmen." Many of the students at Cleveland High School were descendants of these settlers. Soon the name "Dutchmen" was applied to them. Hence our theme

"Around the Year With the Dutchmen"

"Around the Year With the Dutchmen"

In the pages that follow, we have tried to use the language of Teen-Agers with the hope, that what we have written will be read by the students. We realize that the English is not the kind that our composition teachers would grade an "E." In fact, any teacher or administrator who wishes may skip our theme song and maintain a normal blood pressure.

Around the Year with the Dutchmen

Author's Note: Any resemblance to Cleveland Characters, living or asleep, is purely intentional.

- Sept. 2: Labor Day. I tucked away my pedal pushers and midriffs, washed off my luscious bronze suntan, and set my H₂O₂ (Peroxide to those uninitiated to the horrors of Rooms 205 and 209!) streak just so, because tomorrow cometh but soon.
- Sept. 3: Oh happy day! The long looked forward to date finally has arrived, and Cleveland corridors echo and re-echo with the millions of assorted resounding noises that 2163 students can make during their first school day. By the way, 384 of the said students are those lovely innocents we engagingly call Nu Jays. Poor things!
- Sept. 4: "You can't do this to me! My constitutional rights!"
"How do I fill out this card? And where will I find Latin 1?"
"You've got her? Lucky joe! Look who I was stuck with!"
"I can't take both Algebra and Spanish the second period, can I?"
"But I have to take that science; I'm graduating!"
"Look at that line for World History; there can't be that many 3's."
You've guessed it. Registration Day!
- Sept. 9-10: Books, books, and more books! Mr. Davisson, our Book Room Custodian, says that between 27 and 28 thousand text books have suddenly come to life and gained new owners during the beginning of this second week of school. Think of the stack they would make piled on top of each other!
- Sept. 11: Um, work began in earnest today. Those Geometric theories — how can I memorize them while the girl in front of me keeps jangling all those silver bracelets? Now I ask you. And oh! what a cute blouse she is wearing, with the tiny black shoestring bow at the collar.
- Sept. 13: The first Pep Session of the term was held today as a rally for our Football Team. One of the features of the Aud was the super twirling of two Drum Majorettes.
- Sept. 14: The Dutchmen defeated McBride for the first time in four years! Congrats! The technicolor score was 24-0, a wonderful season beginner.
- Sept. 16: The January '47 class met and chose its class colors and pin design. Even the manliest males were seen pouring over shades of primrose yellow, wedgewood blue, and geranium red! P. S. Red-violet, and gray were chosen the winners.
- Sept. 17: Preliminary balloting for the candidates for Cleveland's Football

Queen and ten Maids got under way. The beginning of two exciting weeks! Good luck, girls.

- Sept. 19: I saw a reet boy today, climbing out of my dreamboat, a red convertible, and wearing one of those horrible crew-cuts. However, his head has passed from the "velvet" stage into the "freshly cut grass" period. He breezily announced that he has just blown in from Blow! (Ouch!)
- Sept. 21: The hard-fighting eleven lost to Manual High School of Louisville, Kentucky, 41-7. The team's trip to this mountaineer state has been completed safely, but they certainly ran into trouble when they hit that Manual Backfield!
- Sept. 24: A double feature Aud Session was presented today! The candidates for both the Football Maids and Queen, and the Cheerleaders were introduced to an enthusiastic student audience. The applause rocked the chandeliers, honestly!
- Sept. 27: Dr. Ethel J. Alpenfels, noted Anthropologist and lecturer, completely won over Cleveland students and faculty in a talk entitled "Facts Explode Myths." Her excellent speaking ability plus comprehensive knowledge made it easily one of the most outstanding assemblies we've ever had. Take a lesson, gals; it will work on a smaller scale, too!
T'was a close fight, Dutchmen. The Cleveland Eleven lost to Belleville, 14-13.
- Oct. 1: An angling course opened this evening at 7:30, sponsored by St. Louis casting clubs. It is available to students of several high schools, including Cleveland, and movies will be presented, along with individual instruction and well-known speakers during the weeks to come, making the class very worth while. After the boys finish this subject, we should really hear stories about the big ones that got away!
- Oct. 2: Over a thousand students saw the movie "El Navajo" in the aud today. It is a very good picture, contrasting the ancient living modes with those of the present. The audience also saw an exhibit of the arts and crafts of these Indians. Some articles were over a hundred years old. This was one time the Freshmen actually had an advantage over us, but we'll get even with them! Now where did I put those butterchecks?
- Oct. 4: The Social Night of the Year! Ten beautiful maids advanced to the throne on the auditorium stage, regal and lovely. Yes, it is the night of the Coronation! Then, the moment of moments. The Football Queen for 1946-47 was introduced, and she was none other than Myrleen Golfinopoulos. The way her votes rolled in during the election, I think she is a Republican! Marcia Anderson, the retiring queen, flew here from Texas for the occasion; from the "nation within a nation" to the "49th state" in one jump!

- Oct. 8: The entire school listened to a talk by Pvt. Gaffney of the St. Louis Fire Department. The importance of fire prevention in the light of the present housing conditions was stressed. Careful where you throw that match, son! And even if you are a Chem whiz (are there such people?) don't call that four alarm catastrophe a "rapid oxidation plus heat and light!"
- Oct. 11: Hear that trumpet, the beat of those drums? The jivy Novelty Orchestra plus countless jitterbugs assured the success of the first school dance of the season. Sponsored by the Student Council, everyone spent a most enjoyable afternoon. Did you notice the ballet slippers competing with the snow white bobby socks and saddles group? As for me, when the next dance comes around, I'm going to wear steel-toed safety protection boots (plus iron armor, too!).
Oh, but the dance wasn't Friday's only contribution to the week. It had another, and we don't mean the lost week-end ahead, either! During the afternoon, a snappy Pep Session was held, in honor of the forthcoming Southwest game. Ummm, weren't those "Queen's Men" good, but def? Natch, and most elementary, Watson!
- Oct. 12: Our fellow inmates don't even rest on Saturdays, that long cherished day of festivities. This morning some of our students, including our newly elected football queen and one of the cheerleaders broadcast Cleveland conversation and chitchat on the Teen Thirty O'clock Club. Nice work; to think, I'll be able to say "I knew them when!"
The score we love to hear: Cleveland, 13; Southwest, 0! In the second half, the Dutchmen mounted the horns of the long—in the front hall trophy case! (Don't they look lovely there?)
- Oct. 14: I wandered down to the lunchroom at noon, by way of the nearest banister, of course, to buy a few vitamins, and found that they have jumped the high hurdles. Yes, they are worth 6c each, except those beautifying the main dishes, which snobbishly await the huge amount of 12c. Exclusive little creatures, aren't they?
- Oct. 15: Have you gone by the swimming pool today and heard those funny sounding gurgles. Rest assured, no one is drowning—yet. It's the swimming team beginning their practice for the coming season. Coach Ballin expects a good team this year, so watch out! Of course, the non-existence of a Springboard doesn't help matters. I offered to let them do leap-frog over my back, but Coach merely threw—glub, glub, glub!
- Oct. 18: Being inquisitive by nature (and don't tell me I can't blame nature for that!) I journeyed once more to the lunchroom to see how hungry you and I and those other 2161 students get every day. Since Monday and the price rise, the main dishes sold have dwindled somewhat—to an average of 1000 eaten daily! Shades of my leaping tin lizzie, that's a mountain of food!

And another bit of info came my way: between 55 and 60 gallons of ice cream disappear daily! (Miss Hunter, maybe that makes up for the severe shortage of milk sold; we like frozen bone builders better!)

- Oct. 19: Two well matched Elevens fought this afternoon, but in the last quarter, a lucky touchdown defeated Cleveland in our second league game of the season. Where are your rabbits' "foots," boys? Score and opposition? Score—McKinley 7, Cleveland Ohhh.
- Oct. 23: A milestone has been hurdled. One third of the journey is over. Seven weeks have passed, and report cards have been graded and given out. Monday and Tuesday were spent in such anxiety and hope that Wednesday is practically an aftermath. But not quite. Anyhow, just tell your parents that a "Barefoot E" is much closer to the real thing than a "G"; after all, doesn't it come between the two in the alphabet? (It was a nice try — you shouldn't have let them read the explanation on the top, silly!)
- Oct. 24: Every seat in Room 300 was filled after school (no, the choirs didn't have to stay after school!) in reply to an invitation from the College Club. This Club presented the first of a series of programs for students interested in going to college. Miss Frances Lee, Program Director of the St. Louis Girl Scouts, Mr. Charles Clayton, Editorial Staff Chief of the St. Louis Globe Democrat, and Mrs. Mildred Miller, our school librarian, were the principal speakers. The afternoon was concluded in the lunchroom, where punch and cake was served. Between the delicious refreshments and the ever-present buzzing gabfests, everyone enjoyed themselves immensely.
- Oct. 25: "The race is not always to the swift. . . ." This afternoon our "B" team trimmed Southwest, 12-6. This greatly boosted their morale, because in the last three games, the scores were really the other way around. We're holding our thumbs and collecting four leaf clovers for you!
- Oct. 28: Yesterday was Navy Day. Today Cleveland celebrated the occasion with an Aud Session which was completely manned by ex-Navy men. The program included talks, an amusing skit, and a movie, "The Battle for the Beaches." These ex-sailors really have something on the ball, haven't they, girls? We should have these auds more often!
- Oct. 30: The Nu-Seniors held their first meeting and elected Mel Doering as their class President. (I knew that Navy Day Aud made an impression on the gals; the next years' motto had better be, "If you want a class office, don a sailor suit."), and Teresa Krauska as Vice-President. I know they'll make fine officers.
- Nov. 1: "Now, from which hat did he pull that rabbit?"
"Aren't these donuts good?" "Da, da, da, da, DA, BOOM!"

The seniors, those super duper term eighters, had a party this evening and it was an affair to end all affairs. Sing'en danc'en eat'en, and entertainment were the highlights, and that solid Novelty Orchestra was a steady blaze, too. "Did he take HER home?"

"Isn't that purple and green plaid shirt just adorable?"

Nov. 2: A Silver Anniversary! Twenty-five long years hurdled! Congrats on a mighty fine job, Orange and Blue!

Woe is me! Football, football, football, must you always oink your way over our opposing team's goalpost? The Roosevelt Roughriders overrode us today, 7-0. I'm beginning to think we're not treating that poor little ball right!

Nov. 4: Twenty luscious outfits plus complete accessories were modeled by Cleveland students; girls, that is. Better luck next time, boys. After all, you want to plan some Spring ensembles, too, don't you? Eighth grade students from nearby grade schools were invited to the style show, too. Golly, those prospective Nu Jays get shorter every term. Pretty soon we're going to have to either lower the locker combinations or supply them with step ladders!

Nov. 5: Professor Ethel Kawin spoke on the subject, "Preparing Youth to Keep the Peace," today in an aud for the entire student body. These speeches are greatly enjoyed by everyone; that is, everyone except the teachers who have planned a nice little quiz during the skipped period! The discussion periods are well liked, too — remember the one on atomic bombs? "If 'A' bombed 'B' and 'B' bombed 'C,' would 'C'" I, for one, really have to watch my p's and q's in an argument like that!

By the way, speaking of atomic bombs, our "Mike" equipment "flunked its final" today when it simply wouldn't let Miss Kawin utter a word. What has she done to its brothers and sisters to make it so mad at her? It isn't as though she squeezes them Frankie style, 'cauz she doesn't!

Nov. 8: The techni film entitled "America, the Beautiful" was shown this afternoon. Seeing a picture like that is almost as good as touring the country — and cheaper, too!

Nov. 9: Mr. Kelley had a new tie on today. The pattern was a nice conservative one, displaying an adorable little squirrel. It has a "so very hungry" look — could it have been searching for some little nuts? (That's all right, as long as HE wasn't!)

Nov. 11: Rah! Rah! Rah! Cleveland Dutchmen mounted and stuffed the Central Redwings today. Maybe we should play more games reset because of rain. Here's to our victory (26 to 0); may it be repeated over and over, even more times than I took Algebra 2!

- Nov. 13: The sevens chose their class rings yesterday and today. At last an indication of graduation! Now if our teachers will only give us an "indication" of graduation at the end of the term, we'll really enjoy being eights.
- Nov. 15: Approximately 1500 parents and friends attended the "Open House" program this evening and they really seemed to enjoy coming back to school. After visiting with advisors and teachers, they saw an excellent entertainment in the aud. Some of the participants were members of the Girl's and Boy's Physical Fitness Classes, who demonstrated their gymnastic work very efficiently. They make it look so easy, but when I get up enough nerve to try some of those stunts, I always almost break my neck. But then, I suppose I should find other things to do which are just as satisfying as standing on one's head!
- Nov. 16: Again! Cleveland 26, Soldan 7!
 "That's the kind of figures I like to look at," I said. And then a character with his eyes on our cute cheer leaders murmured, "Me, too!"
- Nov. 17: Students of the "Fundamentals of Speech" class gave a dramatic sketch entitled "Deadline For Living" over the radio today. It was prepared to stimulate thinking about the atomic bomb. That bomb may never fall in this neighborhood (we sincerely hope not), but it has already been the cause of a lot of noise in this school!
- Nov. 18: Mr. Henry Kemper, president of the Ozark A.A.U., showed the World History classes moving pictures of the 1936 Olympic games this afternoon. Now why didn't things like that happen when I was taking that subject? All we did was memorize some dates! Speaking of dates, a handsome, very bashful fellow who sits in front of me during the third period, finally mustered up enough courage to ask the bonnie lassie across the aisle for a date. She didn't even reward him with a smile, but snapped at him, "1492!"
- Nov. 21: Wonder of Wonders, it actually happened here! No more do we wander around disconsolately during our lunch periods! No more do we run to the nearest "Drive In" after school. Those beautiful, golden brown, deliciously crisp French Fries were served today—and the lines curved in and out more than our Conga lines do at school dances! Our lunch room conduct will be exemplary if only we can enjoy that South Side delicacy more often, Miss Hunter. We'll even consider stacking our dishes!
- Nov. 21-22: "The Wizard of Oz" was presented this Thursday and Friday with the usual thunderous applause given work well done. Everyone who participated in the preparation of the production should step forward for a deep bow; congratulations! (Mr.

Busch, that cowardly lion hairdo is delightful; you should wear it more often! You'd be my man of the moment.)

Nov. 22: A group of A Cappella Choir students again gave an excellent musical program over the radio this afternoon. Clevelandites are "on the air" so much we really should have our own station, don't you think? (Board of Education, please note!)

Nov. 23: At last an excuse for looking at the moon! Or don't you really need one? A partial eclipse of the sun was seen today by those whose eyes were heaven-bent around eleven o'clock. Wasn't that moon purty?

Nov. 25: Have you seen those Reindeer galloping around school lately? (Dear Zoology teacher: I trust reindeer gallop?) We mean the prancing ones currently featured on the fronts of the sweaters our heartthrobs are wearing, natcherally. And have you noticed their gals busily knitting socks? It's newer than exchanging bracelets to wear matching pairs, and twice as original since no two socks have the same pattern; not even the right and left one of a pair!

Nov. 27: Actually hamburgers with onions! And ice cream with chocolate sauce, too! Our lunchroom is really on the ball lately, and how we appreciate it. Afterwards we had that wonderful dance, making our pre-Thanksgiving celebration quite a success.

Nov. 28: A holiday!! 'Nuff said!

Dec. 2: Dr. Joseph Lohman, the third of a series of speakers on International Cultural Relations, gave a talk on the social disorders in the slums of the larger cities and analyzed the causes and results of them for us.

Dec. 4: That day is here again! Ring out, glad bells, eighty-seven students actually received at least four "E's" today, at the end of the fourteenth week. I didn't know that there were that many geniuses in St. Louis, much less at dear old Cleveland. I've been trying to find out their secret, unsuccessfully so far. Most of them just give me silly answers, such as "Try studying once in a while, stupid!" Just as an idle thought, though, don't you think it would be nice if we went over the hundred mark at the end of the term?

Dec. 6: Came one, came practically all, to listen to an all reet fun-fest after school. T'was Rush Hughes in person, with so-o-o smooth plat-ters galore. The music-minded gentleman divided the program into three parts, one of which was a record quiz with the questions concerning current popular songs. The knowledge displayed at this point was something to listen to (teachers would be happy to know we know something about something, no?). For your info, that last sentence was not a broken record—it was part of my English teacher's nightmare! To get back to that knowledge, it was really worthwhile because it paid off with bigger dividends than Rockefeller's stocks before the big crash! Hams, record albums, tickets to night clubs — such prizes! Wouldn't it be nice if we could learn the names of Roman leaders as easily as those of composers?

Dec. 7-8: The calendar says December, but the weather says it's April over the weekend. Wonderful for weiner roasts or hikes or a playday in the country — except that I'm too tired; I think I'm getting Spring Fever!

Dec. 10: The Cagers opened their 1946 season with a bang (or would a trio of bangs be more correct?), winning their first three games: CHS 48, Hancock 27; CHS 41, Brentwood 19; CHS 48, Blewett 41. But I don't know why everyone is so interested in basketball; our team is supposed to be a good one, and yet even they can't make the ball STAY in the basket! (Nevertheless, we're proud of you, really.)

Dec. 11: Dr. C. Oscar Johnson addressed the student body this morning, and was very warmly welcomed — however, tho trying our best we could not compete with the temperature of the tropics from which he has recently returned. Dr. Johnson based his talk on his tour of the South Pacific area, China, and Japan, interweaving in it many humorous events.

Dec. 12: Once again Room 300 was crowded with students attending an open meeting of the College Club. Mr. Jackson, Assistant Principal of Cleveland, and Mr. Albert Lindel, of Harris Jr. College, were the principal speakers, followed by a panel discussion led by teachers and students.

Dec. 13: Christmas gifts for Veterans' Hospitals were collected this morning. The front hall looked like Santa had arrived early and left all of St. Louis' packages there. You should have seen the students buying the gifts — but watching them stagger to school with all their purchases was even funnier. Overheard at one store: A girl was trying to decide between various brands of shaving cream, with the help of an amused clerk. Said she tearfully, "You mean there is more than one type? But I didn't know that — you see, I don't use it!"

Dec. 16: Have you noticed the way gals are saving their pennies for a rainy day? Some are still old-fashioned enough to stick them in the slots of their smocks, those more on the beam stick them on belts to give them a few vitamins and pep them up, and still other Josephines are making them into jewelry. But, says the naive one, "Wouldn't a piggy bank hold more?"

Dec. 18: The last swimming meet of 1946 was held against Roosevelt, in their own back yard. Let's pull for our team, and attend the meets—well, the fellows, anyway! I've been trying to find a goodluck charm for them all day; how would a fish foot do? (The thud you just heard was my Biology teacher; there will be one minute of silence, please.)

Dec. 21: Call an ambulance, mother, and have the doctor waiting. I'm going to cash in my bonds now and cut a hole in my account at the bank. Don't wait up for me. I'm going downtown to do my Christmas shopping on the last Saturday before Christmas! (And I made such good resolutions last year, too!)

Dec. 23: Adeste Fidelis; Jesu Bambino; Oh, Holy Night; Today There Is Ringing: Silent Night. This evening, the combined choirs of Cleveland, led by Miss C. L. Mann and Mr. Janetzke, formerly of our faculty, participated in a beautiful Christmas program for the people of our community. The Christmas story was presented in song and narrative, against the background of a church interior, and was deeply appreciated by all who attended.

Dec. 24: For the sixth consecutive year Cleveland students were privileged to hear the Christmas story in an auditorium this morning. It was hard to realize that the singers are classmates, and that it is 1946 instead of the time of the Birth of Christ. This program is one of the important highlights of the school year.

Our holiday begins! Christmas Eve! The wonder and excitement of the season returns each year even to sophisticated upper-termsmen, who are not above peeking into interesting packages and hiding others for days before the 25th. And a few even peered by the chimney — let us trust not in vain!

Dec. 31: New Year's Eve! Formals and horns and corsages and parties — all combine for a merry evening. The expectant look on everyone's face as the hands of the clock merge on twelve — Happy New Year!

Jan. 1: 1947! Ring out the old, ring in the new! And early this morning the little New Year ran up to the front door of Father Time's mansion, jubilantly shouting, "Open the Door, Richard!"

Jan. 2: Talking about ringing bells, why must those at school always pop into one's mind? (Assuming that one has a mind, of course.) They rang long and loud today, proclaiming the first day of labor in the new year. I've often wondered why they made the first Monday in September Labor Day when January 2nd would be so much more appropriate!

Jan. 6: I've been poking my head 'round corners and corridors (all in the interest of the Beacon, of course!) listening to the locker loudness of the gals and guys who, though they do take a few isolated and unimportant subjects such as Trig or Psychology, really come to CHS to "major in dates." And did I get some cheerful earfuls about current "men of the moment" and "swoon gals deluxe." In fact, I've gotten around so much lately that they call me "Kilroy, II!"

- Jan. 10: We heard some super speeches in the American Legion Oratory Contest today. We always enjoy the visit of Stockholm Post; maybe it's because they always seem to enjoy visiting us so much! By the way, everyone thought Ronald Hertel's speech on the defense of American freedom and democracy really hit the center of the target. We certainly have a handsome representative to the district contest!

Mr. Hickey, Superintendent of Instruction in St. Louis, spoke about the long range plans for our school at the meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association today. His description of special bandrooms, better study facilities, and theatre and radio studio rooms left his audience breathless and wishing that they could go to Cleveland in that talked about "near future!" But I've been thinking about his promise of sound-proofing the entire building — think how dull 'twill be not hearing the noon-hour clatter and chatter in the lunchroom, and the romping and stomping on the stairways!

- Jan. 13: This morning I came out of my third period class and saw spots before my eyes — and it wasn't because I've been studying too hard, either! These were great big round red polka dots, all over a certain boy's shirt! I took one look and ran to hang a sign round his neck: "Danger — Measles!" And they talk about female fashions!

- Jan. 15: The students and faculty "laid a dime on the line" this morning to the tune of $641.84 as their contribution to the "Mile of Dimes" Infantile Paralysis Campaign. A splendid sum, no?

- Jan. 17: A swimming meet was held at the Carondelet "Y" today, with the Hadley team as our opponents. The contest was splashed to a finish in our favor, of course.

- Jan. 20: The ballots are in, the votes are counted, the election is over. The new Student Council President is Bob Stewart, an engaging sixth termmer. Congratulations, Bob!

Caps and gowns . . . turn in your books . . . "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgot" . . . Goodby! Today the Seniors received their caps and gowns, and really, I've never seen one hat style worn at so many different angles! These last few days have flown by faster than the cram hours before a big final, honestly. And do you know, after four long years (yes, most of the prospective grads entered Cleveland in January '43!) of anticipating next Wednesday evening, they actually seem a bit sorry to leave their alma mater!

- Jan. 21: Senorita Ligia Ramirez, of Quito, Ecuador, visited several classes at our school today. She expects to teach English upon returning to her native country — and several of the fellows said that after seeing her, they were considering such a career in Ecuador, too!

Class day. All the Seniors sat on the stage and they looked so dignified we hardly recognized them! Seriously though, a fine group of people are graduating tomorrow night and we're going to miss them.

Jan. 22: The last day of the term came at last (Like it should, I suppose; it would seem funny having it come first, no?) By the way, has anyone informed Mr. Truman that Atomic Bombs can be made just as effectively and much cheaper by manufacturing them in the shape of long, flat, white cardboards, with a few grades printed in the middle?

The big night, the event of events for the January 1947 graduates. Congratulations, Alumni ('cauz that's what they are now!).

Jan. 24: Oh, what a game! The Cleveland Cagers won a super duper game from Roosevelt this evening, 52-43. That exciting second period! By the way, the Basketball team also whipped McBride, and the Soldan Tigers, while dropping one to Beaumont. Three to 1 is purdy good, fellows, so dry your tears!

Jan. 26: Br-r-r! January is showing us what it's made of and really turning on the winter. Walking north on those l-o-n-g, l-o-n-g blocks makes me a nominee for the title of Miss Ice Berg or something. (What did you say? Miss frozen turnip of 1947? For shame!) I wonder . . . dad, about my allowance; how about paying portal to portal pay?

Jan. 30: Eleven Cleveland girls modeled new high school fashions at the Coronado Hotel today. You know, most of the girls at school would l-o-v-e to be Teen Models, but we know they can't all be. As a consolation prize, how about the rest of them trying to be Model Teens? (Ouch!)

Jan. 30: Two thousand members of the Cleveland Alumni Association attended the reunion this evening, making it one of the best meetings they've ever had. It was decided that the John Maddox Memorial Organ be purchased and installed in time for the Christmas program eleven months hence. We certainly appreciate this fine gift and the feeling behind it.

Jan. 31: The Swimming Team kept its record intact today by beating the McKinley Goldbugs, 40-26. It seems that the Goldbugs just aren't water bugs.

Feb. 4: About seventy-five Nu Jay mothers were present at a tea this afternoon given by the students in their honor. Afterwards, they were entertained royally by the Freshmen and heard speeches by members of the faculty. Congratulations, Term Oner's, you really proved you are made of society stuff—how about showing the fact in the lunchroom?

Feb. 7: Cleveland was honored to have, for the first time, the district finals for the American Legion Oratorical Contest held in the auditorium. Although our candidate did not win (McKinley carried off the honor) we do think he did a mighty fine job.

Johnny get your gun, on the run, join the fun! Our expert Marksmen defeated Country Day this evening 719 to 677, demonstrating some mighty fine shooting. I'm going to do my best to stay on the good side of that team—it's dangerous not to!

Feb. 9: Are you taking any of the new courses offered at C. H. S.? That "Driver Education and Training" will prove popular. I know—and I've several students I'd like to especially recommend for the course! I'd be willing to give them a full credit myself if they'll only learn how much fun it is missing pedestrians instead of playing "Touch Tackle" with their bumpers! Transcription and Salesmanship are two others that have been eagerly chosen. Our commercial students will really be ready to take over the business world upon graduation.

Feb. 13: Our gym was the scene of a Senior Post-Graduate party this evening. Dancing, entertainment, and refreshments were the main events and they certainly were all thoroughly enjoyed. It's not often such a large group of graduates come back to visit their alma mater together; and we were proud of them.

Feb. 14: Lacy hearts and winsome cupids were the order of the day 'cauz we celebrated St. Valentine's Day today. Those little love letters have changed since grandma was a girl (what hasn't?)—fellows no longer ring the bell and run, they stick around to get credit for their masterpiece!

Certain Seniors and graduates gathered in the library early this morning to take Scholarship Tests, and I understand they really worked hard. One girl said, in describing it, "We had to pair words I've never heard of with words I can't even pronounce!"

Feb. 18: The Spring Show is just around the corner! What is my secret source of info? Why, tryouts were held in the aud this afternoon, and if they are any indication of the show-to-be, it's going to be a super super success!

Feb. 19: The "School Tax and Bond" Campaign was the subject for five fine talks in the aud today. Mel Doering was chosen by the judges (both faculty and students were represented in this group, an indication of wonderful things to come, I think) as Cleveland's candidate for the high school radio contest.

Feb. 20: Are you planning on attending college? If you graduate, that is? Did you listen to Mr. Kelsey in room 300 this afternoon, when he talked about applications and those "blessings from heaven," scholarships? His information helped that chronic look of bewilderment under so many bangs, 'cauz getting into a college is really something these days. Whoever thought during the period of all girls' schools during the war that it would be quite so bad during the following peace, and that having all those returning men might be just a wee bit troublesome? Who am I kidding?

- Feb. 21: Strike up the band! And I always thought that bands were just parade decorations! Our band really showed its stuff at a band concert in the aud today, playing wonderful selections. In one of them, "The Universal Judgment," three trumpeters representing a heavenly choir, answered the band from the balcony. Now who would think those boys were such little angels?

Cleveland Cagers clinched second position in the Public High School League this evening by defeating the Goldbugs, 58-27. (If anyone is interested, the Beaumont Bluejackets caught the first honors.) However, we're looking forward to the regional games confidently. I heard one McKinley boy say "When those Dutchmen are on the court, making a basket is harder than threading a camel through a needle's eye."

- Feb. 22: Did you all listen to Mel Doering on the radio? (Don't swoon, gals!) His speech did sound rather wonderful, no? Frankie, the second! But where's his bow tie?

- Feb. 24: Off we go into the Gravois bus, riding downtown to see General "Ike!" Yes, someone got softhearted (Orchids to him, whoever he is!) and we actually were allowed to go to his parade. There were so few students left at school that they wouldn't have filled a one-room country grade school—one naive murmured, "But I didn't see so many downtown!"

We won the ball game! Yes, we were successful at the Sub-Regional opener. We defeated John Burroughs 59-35, a very nice margin.

- Feb. 26: Have you seen the tubular jersey dresses that are all the rage at present? Even I could make one of those and that's saying a lot.

- Feb. 28: February is a short month, we'll admit, but we love it. Not only because it contains St. Val's Day, either. So there. This last week, we were off Monday afternoon, almost unanimously, and again today, we had a whole day holiday. Our teachers had an all day conference on "Radio in Education." But even with all its advantages, I'm disappointed with this year's February. Why? Because there is no 29th, making it Leap Year.

- Mar. 3: Have you seen the buttons, those little round buttons that all the Seniors are sporting? I'm sure that the character featured on it should be called "Hoiman"—he's the ugliest thing available this side of Frankenstein!

- Mar. 4: Even the heppiest hep cats calmed down and greatly enjoyed the Symphony Concert this afternoon. Cleveland is always proud to be host to Mr. Golschman and his orchestra.
- Mar. 7: Today was a dark and dismal one around Cleveland. The three school tax proposals submitted to the voters were defeated by a narrow margin, and our Cager Quintet bowed to the U. City Indians this evening, thus ending their basketball season with a 29-33 score.
- Mar. 14: Like to dance? Love jivy music? Want to have fun with fellow students? If your answer is "YES!" I'll see you at the dance this afternoon!
- Mar. 17: Shure, and it's a wonderful day for the Irish. Me green silk dress is spic and span, be gorra, and ready for parading. Grab a Shamrock, Maggie, and join in celebrating St. Patrick's Day! (Shure, and have you iver seen so much green in all your life?)
- Mar. 19: I'm going to miss being a roving reporter! But I think, according to some Psy. theories that have slowly been permeating my brain (too slowly, Miss H.?) that today would be a good day to end my diary for this year. 'Cauz this is that all important day, that fateful Wednesday when we receive our first seven weeks grades. Of course, another reason for ending today is the fact that your noble Editor has a gun aimed at my head, just because I'm a few weeks late with my last pages! Don't let a little thing like that down you, Rick!

Annually yours,

Your roving reporter,

Helen Griffiths

Coronation

MISS MYRLEEN GOLFINOPOULOS
Football Queen, 1946-1947

Coronation

Miss Marcia Anderson, Retiring Queen, and escort, Mr. Frank Dinyer.

To the stirring grandeur of rhythmical marches, an excited and tense crowd filled the Cleveland auditorium. A hush fell upon the crowd as Tom Koederitz, President of Student Council, came forward to welcome all those present to the gala affair. He introduced Mr. Kelley, who spoke of the origin and beauty of the Coronation. Bob Bridwell, master of ceremonies, was then introduced and the program was well under way.

After Bob's announcements concerning the election of our maids, the curtains slowly parted and the audience gazed admiringly upon an elaborate Arabian wonderland. Upon the large and majestic throne, sat our gracious and beautiful retiring queen, Marcia Anderson. Beside her was seated the King for the night, Robert Magaz, and to her left was her escort, Frank Dinyer.

The new court was then summoned forth and Darlene Holman, first maid of the evening, came forward. She wore an exquisite blue net gown. It was trimmed with large bows placed at the low cut neckline and on the full skirt. She was escorted by Walter Vanderverter.

The second maid to be announced was Arlene Cervenka. Her exotic gown was pink taffeta, with a low sweetheart neckline and tight bodice from which flowed a full skirt. She was escorted by Don Nagel.

The charming Doris Peche was the next to make her debut before the throne. Her stunning gown of white net had scalloped dropped shoulders. The skirt was fully gathered with a black velvet bow tied at the waist with streamers falling to the floor. Her escort was Robert Shannon.

Jennie Accardi, next to enter the Royal Court, was escorted by Gordon Von Doersten. Jennie looked exquisite in a gown of ocean blue. The bodice was net with large puffed sleeves. The skirt was satin with colonial styled scallops trimmed with net ruffles and dainty flowers.

Jeannette Kluge advanced in a demure gown of black velvet top and full, bustled skirt of blue net. Her skirt was sprinkled with tiny gold sequins that sparkled as she made her way up to the Court. Her escort was Ralph Pleimann.

Next to bow before the Royal Court was the charming Betty Bornemann. She was ravishing in a drop shouldered pink net gown. The tight bodice flowed into a full bustled skirt. Her accessories were of matching pink and covered with silver sequins. Her escort was Bill Hensley.

The audience stirred slightly and the tension tightened as the first maid of the higher terms came forth. Charlotte Obst entered attired in a lovely blue gown. Her long blond hair was set off by a blue sequined head band and she carried a large bouquet of pink roses. Adolph Rubin was her escort.

The stunning Louise Shackelford was the next to enter on the arm of Alois Gmoser. She wore a dazzling gown with a black, one shouldered bodice and full white net skirt. Her accessories were black.

Garnetta Buchman then made her way up to the court escorted by John McDonald. Pretty Garnetta was attired in a shimmering champagne colored gown, daintily trimmed in green and gold sequins. She wore all gold accessories, with a dazzling broach at her neck.

The eleventh maid to enter the court was the lovely, blond Peggy Koerner in a flattering gown of ocean blue taffeta. The full skirt was set off by an exquisite bustle. She wore blue evening gloves and a sparkling necklace. Her escort was Donald Schrader.

It was then a breath taking moment as the trumpets sounded forth summoning our queen to her Royal Court. The new Football Queen of 1946, the stunning Myrleen Golfinopoulos, entered amid a roar of applause and cheers. She wore a dazzling gown of white, covered with tiny gold sequins that glittered brightly as she slowly made her way down the aisle, escorted by Floyd Murray. In her arms she carried a large bouquet of deep red roses. She gracefully bowed before King Magaz to receive her crown, and as she took her place on the throne she smiled to her admiring audience as they highly approved her, which they showed with their cheers and applause.

The train bearers were Dolores Rugman, Dolores Peden, and Betty Mansker.

The entertainment was called forth and the first to honor her majesty was the "Queen's Men," a group of ten boys singing "Wedding Bells," and "Margie." Next the talented Shirley Gatzert sang "You Are Free." An Arabian dance was performed by Louise Hahn and Jeanne Bierach. Norma Aubuchon mystified the audience with an outstanding baton performance. Two alumni of Cleveland honored our Queen, Joe Holman singing "Without a Song," and Carol Heidelberg presented a few of her imitations and novelty songs. A military tap was presented by thirteen girls, and the program came to a close after a few words from our own Coach Meinhart, and cheers led by our cheerleaders.

Row 2: Betty Bornemann, Jeannette Kluge, Jennie Accardi, Doris Peche, Arlene Cervenka, Darlene Holman.

Cheese Cottage

Row 1: Alice Melickian, Sally Zumwinkel, Shirley Howard, Lena Becker, Meri Ann Narancic.

Row 2: Bob May, Ed Reifschneider, Don Hendricks, Bob Healy.

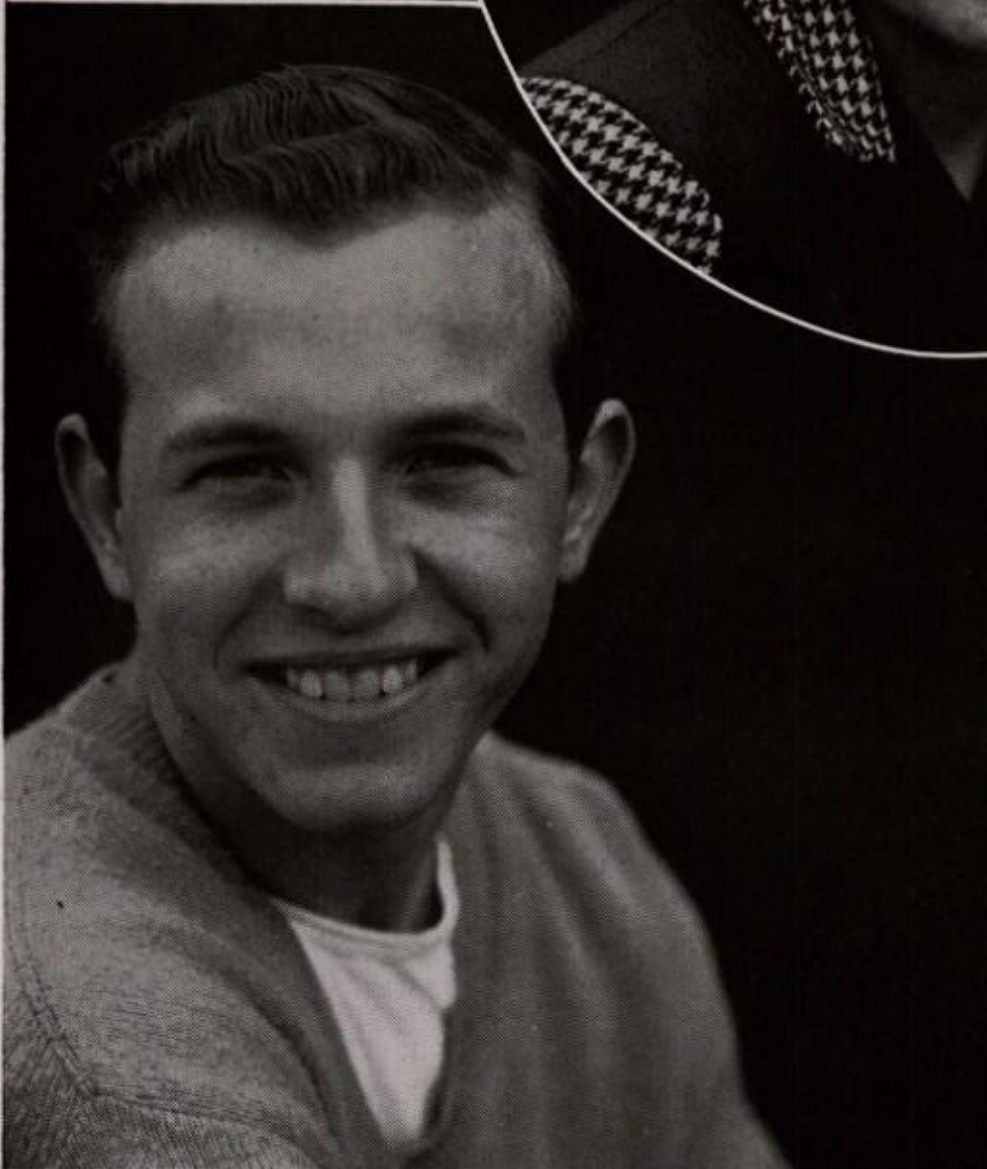

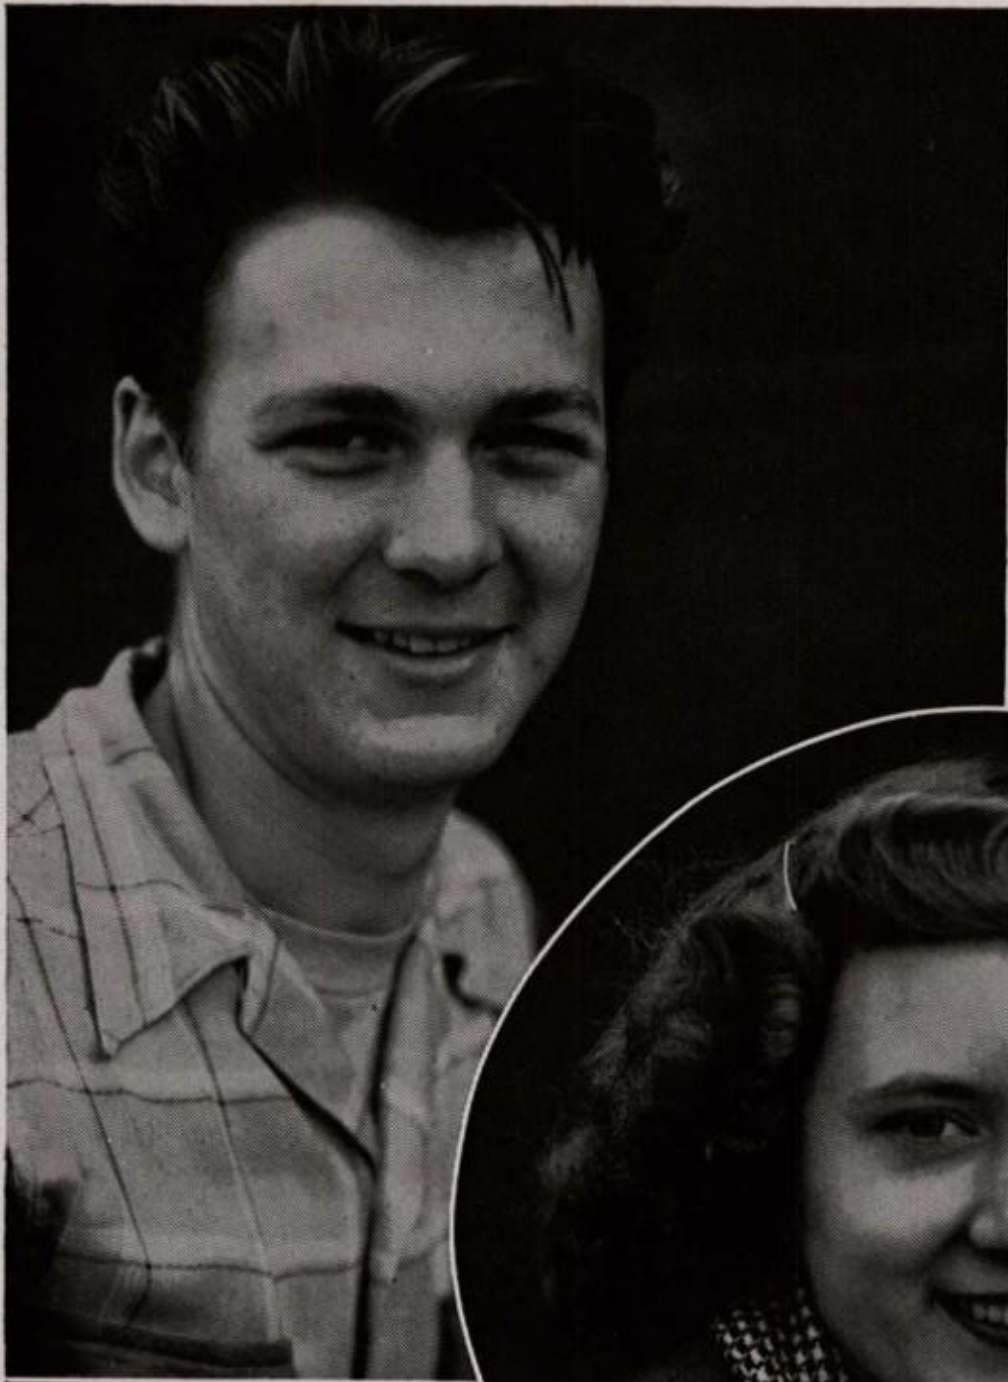

Have you ever rented a summer lakeside cottage for a vacation "to get away from it all," and then had hordes of friends and relatives descend upon you? If you have, then you probably have a vague idea of the problems that beset the occupants of "Cheese Cottage." They presented their troubles in a highly farcical manner for the friends of Cleveland on Friday, April 26, 1946.

Heading the cast, in the central role of Gus Hinkle, was Robert May, while the strong supporting parts were played by Sally Zumwinkel as Evelyn Hinkle, Meri Ann Narancic as Judith Hinkle, Lena Becker as Aunt Liz, Ed Reifschneider as J. Orville Spence, Don Hendricks as Uncle Conney, Alice Melickian as Mrs. Mortimer, Bob Healy as Bart Rensaleer, and Shirley Howard as Alma Carlay.

The whole cast was at its best as it ran through three rollicking acts of hilarious chatter and amusing situations, which left the audience hungry for more.

We shall long remember the wisecracks and dynamic personality of J. Orville Spence, the real estate agent; the fashionable 1895 swimming suit worn by Gus Hinkle, in real life Bob May; the plumbing genius of Bartholomew Rensaleer; and "Howjado" and her canine friend.

The play was directed by Miss Margaret Boland. The scenery was made by Miss Knepper's Stagecrafters.

Wizard of Oz

The musical extravaganza, "Wizard of Oz," was presented on Nov. 21st and 22nd in the auditorium.

As Mr. Barrett raised his baton, the overture began, bringing a stillness over the audience as it heard the familiar tunes which were a fitting beginning of the entertainment to follow.

The "Wizard of Oz" is a fairy tale about Dorothy Gale, a young Kansas farm girl, who is desperately trying to find the true pathway to happiness. Dorothy is blown to the "Land of Oz," as a result of a terrible cyclone. Upon arriving, she meets a kindly witch who bestows a magic ring upon her and explains that she is entitled to have three wishes gratified. Naturally the first thing that comes to Dorothy's mind is wishing that she were back in Kansas. This wish, however, is to no avail since the witch's powers do not extend beyond the "Land of Oz." She explains to Dorothy that if she visits the remarkable "Wizard of Oz," there is a possibility that he might help her get back to Kansas. Shortly following this, she meets a handsome young man, Sir Dashemoff Daily, who has acquired this title through his extensive writing of songs. He, to Dorothy's astonishment, has written her a song. Forgetting about the ring momentarily, she expresses her desire to know the song. Strangely enough, she finds she does know it. Sir Dashemoff leaves Dorothy after she finishes singing the song and sadly looking around, she finds herself alone again except for the presence of a Scarecrow. Being very lonely, she wishes that he were alive. Through the wonderful effects of the ring, the Scarecrow is brought to life. Dorothy then discovers that the farmer has forgotten to give the poor Scarecrow a brain. The two start the trip together, Dorothy seeking a pass to Kansas, and the Scarecrow longing to find a brain. While on the road, they meet a Tin Woodsman, Nick Chopper. To their amazement, he has cut off his body, piece by piece, with his axe because of the wicked witch who had placed a curse on him when he was found making love. Every part of his body has been replaced by the tin smith but he is lacking a heart. Dorothy invites him to accompany the Scarecrow and herself to visit the Wizard and seek his help. A little farther along the way, they encounter a Lion who, strangely enough, hasn't any courage. He, too, is invited to accompany them to visit the Wizard of Oz. After many things happen to delay them, which include being captured by Pastoria, the rightful king of Oz and his army, led by General Riskitt, they finally reach the Wizard. The Scarecrow receives his brain, the Tin Man his heart, and the Lion his courage. Dorothy is allowed to go back to Kansas in Pastoria's rocket ship. Other characters who enlighten the plot are Cynthia, the lunatic, Tryxie, Pastoria's girl friend, and Sir Wyley Gyle, who tries to get the throne.

The show wouldn't have been a success without the help of Miss Louise Mann, production manager, chorus director and musical instructor of soloists, Miss Margaret Boland, assistant production manager and dialogue instructor, and Mr. Vernon Barrett, musical conductor and instructor of the Orchestra.

The beautiful scenery, which contributed greatly to the success of the show, was created by Miss Florence Knepper and the Stage Crafters. Miss Vera Ulbricht was in charge of the dances which added so greatly to the variety of the show. Miss Esther Rahmoeller deserves a vote of thanks for her fine work concerning the costumes, and recognition also goes to Miss Mary Inez Mann and to the dramatics classes who assisted in the professional way the make-up was applied.

Naturally there are many more who deserve recognition. These include: Mr. Harold M. Doxsee and his student assistants for lighting and sound, the Student Council, the Art classes, and the Orange and Blue for publicity, the Student Council for ticket sales and the Student Officers for services.

Before presenting this show, a great deal of creative work had to be accomplished. A beautiful harmonic arrangement of "Over the Rainbow" was written by Gerald Brown, who was also the accompanist for the Operetta. Specialty dances were arranged by Doris Joedicke. Dialogue was created for special scenes by a committee consisting of Alma Berger, Margaret Killough, and Raymond Wofford.

The Beacon

Shirley Gatzert, Richard Savage, Don Schmoll, Tom Allen

In the past few years the topics chosen for the Beacon have been unrelated to school life and sometimes were uninteresting to the student. This year, we have chosen the theme "Around the Year With the Dutchmen." We hope to bring to you, the student, a yearbook that you will enjoy and remember many years after your graduation from Cleveland. The sports pages this year, we think, are better than we have had for sometime. They contain pictures of the individual players on the football and basketball varsity teams and also write ups of the various "B" teams. Many of the girls' athletics are included with pictures and write ups.

The book is primarily for a record of the school year, and features the Senior. We have tried to improve the Senior section. The pictures are alphabetized except for those that came in late, which were added at the end of the class.

On the picture pages we have photographs of the important people in school life, the student government heads, and the elected staffs of the publications.

With these changes, which we hope are improvements, we have published the 1947 Beacon.

Orange and Blue

Bill Ebert, Don Marsh, Ruthellen Grupe

THE ORANGE AND BLUE, bi-weekly publication of Cleveland High School, is a paper written by the students, about the students, and for the students of the school. While most of the reporting and writing is done by the Advanced Composition class, any student may submit an article for publication.

The Editor, Don Marsh, Associate Editor, Ruthellen Grupe, and Business Manager, Bill Ebert, were elected by popular vote of the student body to serve through June, 1947.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Edith M. Waddock, who replaced Miss Julia D. Pryor after her marriage during the summer, and Mr. E. E. Hutzel, who replaced Mr. J. D. Bragg in business management when Mr. Bragg retired in November, the ORANGE AND BLUE has faithfully reported on school news and set down a record of student life at Cleveland during 1946 and 1947.

The Student Council Alternates solicit the subscriptions and distribute the papers to the advisory groups.

The members of the Student Court are students who give advice and help to other students. Any needed questioning and admonishing is done by the members of the Court, and the sponsor merely sits in on the meeting.

The major service that the members seek to perform is to save by friendly discussion and warning. Yet direct action is taken when extremely uncooperative students are concerned, and the administration supports such action. In general, the aim of this branch of student government is to prevent disaster from befalling the unthinking pupil, and to line him up on the side of decency and respect.

The members who serve on the Court are chosen by the present court members. The members must be of term 6 or higher in order to have the necessary experience in dealing with classmates and the respect of the lower termers.

The organization was formed in 1937 and is still one of the most active groups in the school, for it offers to any offenders the chance to redeem himself without publicizing to his adviser, to his teachers, or to his friends any details of his experience, and his record is left in his own hands to properly perfect and preserve.

Student Participation in School Government

TOM KOEDERITZ

President of the Student Council

Sept. 1946, Jan. 1947

As president of the Student Council, Tom became a well-known student about school for he presided at aud sessions and set the ball rolling. Under his direction the dimes came rolling in for the Mile of Dimes. His greatest problem was to get "the car" here for staff meetings.

JANET ROGERS

Vice-President of the Student Council

Sept. 1946, Jan. 1947

Janet presided over the Hospitality Committee and met Cleveland's guests with grace and charm. She took over the reins in the absence of the President, and did an excellent job at looking pretty.

ALLEN BEBEE

Chief Justice of the Student Court

Sept. 1946, Jan. 1947

Allen did his work on the Court so well that he was elected for a second term. He served on the Student Council and the Panel and spent many hours in active service for the school. Some day we'll be hearing from Allen.

JACK McLEAN

President of the Student Officers

Sept. 1946, Jan. 1947

Jack served as President of the Student Officers for two terms. Since this branch of our student participation in school government calls for many hours of work during and after school, we take off our hats to Jack and thank him for his loyalty and service to Cleveland.

Student Participation in School Government

BOB STEWART

*President of the Student Council
January 1947 — June 1947*

President Bob is quite an all-round student. He likes to sing and was President of the Junior Choir. He was Chairman of the Publicity Committee of the Council last term and accomplished things. He is "fleet of feet" and earned his letter in Track quite early in his career. He likes pretty girls.

SHIRLEY KRAFT

January 1947 — June 1947*

Shirley was Secretary of the Council last term. We always like to have a pretty girl read the minutes. Shirley had a way with her "bows" for she was Vice-President of Tox. She likes to "flute" in the Orchestra and always has a speech at the tip of her tongue. She's making a tip top Vice-President of the Council, and also gets an Academic "C" here and there.

SHIRLEY MAE REHLING

*Girl's Deputy, Student Officers
January 1947 — June 1947*

The Girls' and Boys' Deputies of the Student Officers are very busy students. It is they who make the assignments for and after school activities, such as senior dances, school dances, operettas, Open House meetings, and any other of the numerous activities that call for Student Officer duty. And this is where Shirley Mae shines like the brass knobs on the banister.

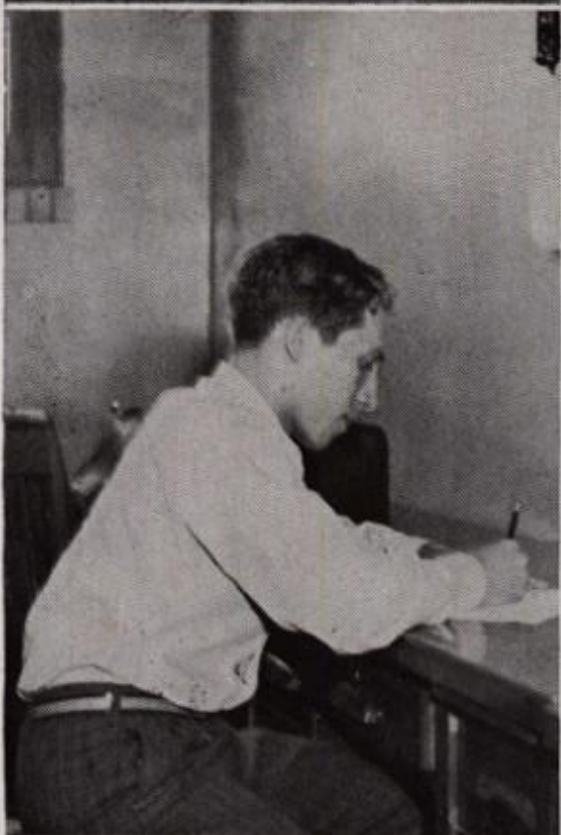

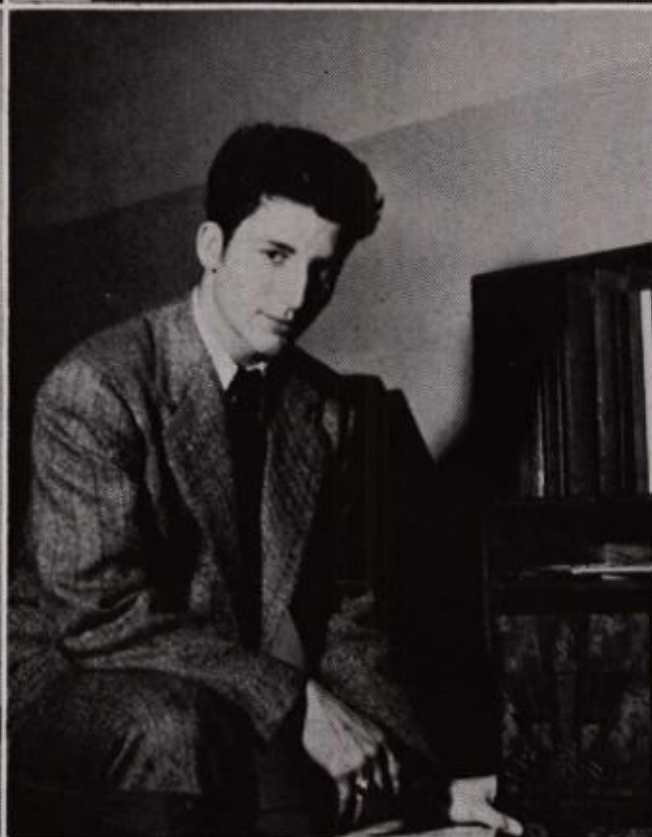

DIETRICH MUELLER

*Boy's Deputy, Student Officers
January 1947 — June 1947*

Dietrich has been active in the Student Officers since he was a Two. He likes the water for he earned a Swim Letter. He is stunning in his band uniform. We will miss him when he leaves in June, for he has a way of getting around.

Choral Music

The Choral Music Department has grown considerably through the years. Classes which now exist are as follows: the A Cappella Choir, Senior Choir 1-1, Senior Choir 1-7, Junior Choir, and Girls' Choir.

Junior Choir is a class to prepare students for future membership in either of the Senior Choirs, is composed of students eager to learn and to gain knowledge of choral singing.

The Senior Choirs offer training in choral singing in addition to requiring participation in some performances. After the students have received this training, they are eligible for membership in the A Capella Choir.

The robed A Cappella Choir meets every morning at 8:15 a. m. under the able direction of Miss Louise Mann. Selection of students for membership in the choir is made by Miss Mann. Citizenship, possibility of development which would contribute to the choir, and individual talent influence the selection.

The main purpose of the choir is to further the relationship between the school and the community. The choir has taken part in school auditorium programs at which time the members have either sung from the stage or the balcony. When singing from the balcony, the magnificence of the beautiful sound coming from great heights contributes to the color of the program and has, at many times, entranced the student body with all its splendor.

The wonderful experiences which the members of the choir receive are a valuable aid in preparing them for later life. Some of the programs which render these priceless experiences are given at Christmas and Easter. At Christmas time there isn't anything that people long for more than to hear the traditional Christmas carols. The Christmas program gives us a beautiful Christmas spirit. The choir presents an Easter program for the students of Cleveland High School, which with all its splendor, helps to instill a religious spirit in the heart of every student.

In the fall of every year, an operetta is presented in the school auditorium. The members of the choir offer their talents generously both as soloists and chorus members. The musical shows offer valuable experience to those who are taking part. Proceeds from the show are contributed to the school fund to be used to aid the school in some way.

Students in the choir have an excellent opportunity to develop their musical talent, as many of the new songs are sight read without accompaniment. This opportunity to develop musical ability has helped many students to prepare for their future life's work.

If you happen to glide by Room 300 some eighth hour and happen to hear some delightful strains of music, it is our choir that you are hearing. We sing all sorts of interesting music. This term we sang from "Old King Cole," a nonsense tune, to the beautiful "Coventry Carol," which our choir traditionally sings in the Christmas program.

Another one of our traditions is that of our annual Mother's Tea. We all love mother to come to this tea. We place the girls with talent on the entertainment part of the program and then we proceed to the lunchroom annex for refreshments. All in all, everybody has an enjoyable time.

These traditions have been carried on for a number of years, and we girls are proud of the fact that our organization is the oldest in the Music Department; however, we keep our choir open to girls of every term who love to sing. We love to sing, and we like sharing our enjoyment of music with them. If you think you would like to join us, by all means do.

The Choral Music Council is a new organization consisting of five representatives elected by students from each choir.

Meetings are held every Tuesday evening at which time the sponsor and representatives discuss problems and make plans for social gatherings of interest to all choral organizations.

The main desire of the Choral Music Council is to help the vocal students, in every way possible, keep alive the wonderful traditions and attitudes which were expressed so splendidly by the former singers of Cleveland High School. The Council also intends to discover new ways in which the choir can contribute to the school from which all would benefit.

One of the main purposes of the council is to advise and suggest methods of improvements to further the relationship between the choirs. Another aim of the council is to create better relations between the singing groups and the school in every way possible.

One of the very active music organizations of Cleveland High School is its Novelty Orchestra which provides danceable music for school dances and other school functions

Educationally, the orchestra provides experience to music pupils interested in the field of modern dance music.

In as much as such a group must be balanced, instrumentally, membership is on a competitive basis. In addition, a student is chosen to act as Student Director under the supervision of the sponsor, Mr. Barrett.

On the second Friday of each month the Student Council gives a dance on the stage gym. All pupils of the school are invited. The Novelty Orchestra plays for these dances. Quite often this orchestra is called upon to play for the senior dances. The school owes these boys and girls a vote of thanks because they give their time playing their instruments while the rest of us have a good time dancing. Occasionally the Novelty Orchestra gives a concert for the school and several times furnished music for the spring entertainment.

Alethinae was organized for the enjoyment of girls interested in literature. Its Latin name, Alethinae, which means "seeker of the truth," is a challenge to its members. Meetings are held on the odd Thursdays of the month at 3:10 p. m. in Room 219. After many long years of devoted service to Alethinae our sponsor, Miss McCalpin, has this year withdrawn from the sponsorship. We are all very appreciative of the inspiring aid she has given the club.

A typical meeting consists of a business meeting for the first half hour followed by the literary program. Every girl has an opportunity to participate in this program which consists of book reports, readings from plays and poems of chosen authors. Discussions follow these readings in which the girls not on the program participate. The program for this year is built around the study of modern and classical authors. At each meeting the members answer to roll call with a quotation about a subject decided upon at the previous meeting. The club's outstanding events are the annual Mothers' Day Tea and the Senior Party.

Several of the members of the club have mothers, aunts and other relatives who once were members of Alethinae. The present members are endeavoring to continue the fine work begun when Cleveland and Alethinae were just starting to grow.

Sob! Giggle! Squint! Scowl! These exclamations and many more might be heard coming from 216 any Wednesday afternoon after 3:15. They come from Miss Helmich who coaches the girls of the Anna Howard Shaw in dramatics.

This club, one of the oldest girls' clubs at Cleveland High School, tries to give at least one play per term. The girls work very hard trying to make their expressions and animations realistic.

The club helps girls to overcome shyness and self-consciousness. It helps to give them poise and self-assurance when speaking or acting in front of a large group of people.

There are many social events which are sponsored by the group. For instance, each term in January and May, a Mother-Daughters' Tea is held. Entertainment is furnished by the girls themselves. The Webster-Hayne party is another semi-annual event.

If any girl of Cleveland would like to acquire poise, meet new friends and increase your popularity, drop around next term and try out for our club.

Amard is one of the newer clubs at Cleveland and is devoted to the reading of plays, improving of diction and bringing literature closer to people who are handicapped. Every week, members of the organization go to the Bethesda General Hospital and read to one of the patients there. Also the club has given plays to a very attentive audience at the Missouri School for the Blind.

Anyone who is interested in plays and doing social work ought to join Amard. It meets every Tuesday in Room 217.

"Get the picture straight"—don't give words the wrong letters—be orthographic in your spelling. That is the idea in the heads of the members of the spelling club. Meanings are even more important. Along with the present word values, derivations are examined, and these in turn aid in impressing upon the memory the proper spellings.

At the regular meetings, many games, from the old-fashioned "spelling down" to puzzling "don't-be-a-ghost" sessions, add to the mere word-study a variety and life; through them the club is trying to cultivate an appreciation of the value of this activity.

Webster Hayne is Cleveland's oldest speech and debating club and is concerned with the development of speaking ability. Each week's program includes speeches on debatable topics. It is during these speeches and debates that rules of parliamentary procedure are learned. Much is gained by the comments and criticisms of our sponsor, Mr. H. M. Doxsee, at the close of each meeting. Many meetings include "grab-bag" speeches which are presented as impromptu talks on subjects suggested by members.

The best known program given by Webster Hayne is the "Mock Trial" in which a case of crime punishable by law is tried. Through the hilarity of impromptu wisecracks and prepared jokes the case comes to a surprise ending, all of which is highly amusing to the audience.

The term party for the members of Webster Hayne and Anna Howard Shaw with its speeches, its novel programs, its music and dancing, and its eats, always draws a good attendance and gives everyone the feeling that membership in the club is immensely worth while.

Not present for picture: Eugene Taul.

"Los Pan Americanos" believes that everyone should learn to appreciate and understand more fully, his southern neighbors, in order to strengthen the alliance of the Pan-American countries and to create a lasting unity between them. To help Cleveland students do this, the club holds meetings every Tuesday morning at 8:15, at which time the countries and their peoples are studied and discussed.

Our club is not entirely of a serious nature, as we have entertainment every other week. Spanish songs, dances, and games are enjoyed by the members, too. Two of the most important events of the year are the Spring Breakfast, which is held before school one day in Carondelet Park, and our Christmas party, which we celebrate in true Spanish custom.

Los Pan Americanos is, of course, represented in the Federation of Pan-American Clubs of Greater St. Louis. The Federation has a business meeting of representatives once a month, and each spring holds a ball and exhibit honoring the Pan-American nations. Each member school sends an elected maid representing one of these nations. Last term our maid was Marilynne Kruse, who had the honor of representing the United States.

Any students who are taking, or have taken Spanish, are invited to join the club at the beginning of next term. The club meets in Room 2.

A freshman Latin student soon learns that a Salutatio was an early morning meeting at which a Roman Patrician met his friends and discussed the current business and political trends of the state in the atrium of his house. A sophomore Latin student has the privilege of joining a Salutatio that is unique in the fact that it is held Post Meridian, i. e. in the afternoon.

For the students of Cleveland High School Latin Classes a Salutatio has come to mean a meeting where they put aside declensions and synopses for a while and discuss matters pertaining to the cultural and social life of their Roman friends, friends whom they have learned to know through reading and study to the extent that they know, among other things, dishes that pleased them most, the type of clothes they wore, the kind of houses they lived in, the Gods and Goddesses they worshipped and the holidays they celebrated.

At a regular meeting the roll call is answered by saying "adsum" if present and "abest" if absent. A program follows which may vary from producing a play to visiting a collection of Roman coins at Washington University; from singing songs in Latin to discussing archaeology and anthropology. Should a person pass Room 223, some afternoon after a meeting has adjourned, he might hear some of the students chanting softly, a song which was learned while producing a recent play and which has become a favorite with everyone.

Not present for picture: Mary Ann Kaufmann.

The Chem Club was organized by and for students especially interested in chemistry. New developments each year stir the interest of those who can appreciate them. New textiles made colorful with a great variety of man-made dyes, plastics of many kinds, new alloys, new medicines such as penicillin, streptomycin, atabrine and sulpha drugs for use as powerful weapons against disease—all these and a host of other things of usefulness and beauty we owe to applied chemistry, based on research.

The Chem Club offers opportunity to explore the possibilities of chemistry beyond the work of the class room. There is literally an endless variety of interesting chemical changes which even the beginning chemistry student can bring about. He can change common salt to baking soda, convert starch into sugar, prepare brightly-colored paint pigments or try his skill as a chemical detective in identifying unknown substances.

At each meeting of the club, several members present demonstrations, give an account of the life and achievements of an eminent chemist, or report on recent developments in the science. A good supply of reference books is available and a monthly journal brings news of advances in chemistry.

Recently the officers presented a chemical comedy written by the sponsor, Mr. Kelsey, in which the laboratory assistants of a research chemist surprised themselves and the chemist, with startling results. Once each semester the club has a party, with games and contests of a chemical nature.

It is really a lot of fun to take part in the discussions of the Sociology Club where a group of about forty boys and girls weigh the evidence from many angles in considering various social problems. Such as, How long should young people submit to parental authority? Should students read comic books? What can we do about the high cost of living? What do we want from the radio? Should practical work experience be some part of each high school student's program?

From time to time, committees of Sociology Club Members make after school trips to get first-hand information about certain social agencies such as the "Missouri School For the Blind," the "Better Business Bureau," "The Civil Courts," "Police Headquarters," etc., in order that their findings may be a basis for club discussions.

Each semester, the Sociology Club gives a Social in honor of the club seniors. This means plenty of eats, excellent entertainment by club members, a message from our club sponsor, Miss Randolph, and farewell expressions by the Sociology Club Seniors. During the latter part of the Club Social, dancing is enjoyed by all present.

The Audio-Visual Club was organized in January 1946, although previous to this time a small group of boys had worked with the public address system and with projectors in the auditorium, and had rendered excellent service.

At present the thirty-four members of the group meet every Tuesday morning in Room 113 to discuss problems that arise in operating the projectors as well as in the handling of the amplifying system.

Early in November 1946, Roger Rodgers and Harold Weber visited Roosevelt High School and were shown what Roosevelt has in the way of audio-visual equipment. Their report was highly complimentary concerning the work at Roosevelt. However, the satisfactory accoustical qualities of our Room 113 were emphasized by the boys.

Boys are selected for the Audio-Visual Club at Cleveland on the basis of reliability and interest in the work to which they are assigned. These boys give many hours of service and their work is appreciated. Room 113 is in use almost every hour of the day.

"Everybody duck, the Sharpshooters are practicing again" — No need to, for the girls in our club have learned how to handle a rifle correctly and safely. Yes, we shoot real guns and shells and all equipment is furnished by the club.

Our club is one of the most active in school and this year we have been entered in many matches, the largest was held at Washington University.

Each year is highlighted by a farewell party given for our seniors.

The College Club had helped many students who are interested in continuing their education beyond high school. Its purpose is to help students find out as much as possible about colleges and universities. Often field trips are made to nearby colleges.

The club has obtained many bulletins and catalogues from colleges all over the country which describe college life. These are kept in the library so that all of the Cleveland students can use them.

Our project for this year has been to give a series of programs, at which we have guest speakers, and the student body is invited to attend. We started this series with a tea at which we discussed the question of "Why go to college." At the following meetings we discussed such questions as "Where shall I go to college," and "What kind of financial help can I get for college."

All Cleveland students who are interested in going to college are invited to come to Room 201 on the even Thursdays after school and become acquainted with other college-minded students.

Girls, do you like to make other boys and girls happy? Those who are less fortunate than yourselves. You can have lots of fun doing it. If you should wander into Room 5 any second or fourth Tuesdays of the month you would hear plans being made for just such parties.

We, in Goodfellowship, as our name implies, try to be "Good Fellows," by bringing a little sunshine into other children's lives. Each year we try to have parties for some orphan home or day nursery, on Christmas, Easter, and Hallowe'en. We make most of our favors in order to save expense. Not only do we have programs for these children, but we also have Mothers Day programs, initiation parties, educational picture shows, entertainment programs and other happy social events.

So, girls, if you would like to help us with any ideas, and if you would like to join us in making others happy, come and meet with us and join us next term.

Toxophilite

All girls in Cleveland have at least one hobby and for most of them, their "beaus" are the most important. So it is with the girls of Toxophilite. They, too, consider their "bows" an important hobby. In fact, they are just what the name Toxophilite means, "lovers of the bow."

Archery is an invigorating, colorful, sport that creates a feeling of companionship among the members of "Tox," as the club is popularly called, and gives each girl a sense of satisfaction unequalled by any other sport. Each arrow, placed upon the string, becomes a challenge, and as it is released it is, indeed, a beautiful sight to see it flying in a gentle arc toward the target, 30, 40, or 50 yards away. It is especially thrilling if the aim proves good enough to find the bull's eye.

It has always been the goal of "Tox" members to have matches with other teams. This objective has not been realized so that "Tox" still looks forward to this achievement.

The clear, sunny days of spring and autumn find every archer out to improve her scores. During the winter months, new members are instructed, and the equipment is repaired.

Toxophilite meets twice a week, on Mondays and Fridays. The Monday meeting is devoted to the business of the club, but if the weather is favorable there is target practice. "Tox" meets immediately after school in Room 111. If any girls are interested in archery, they are invited to apply for membership.

Let us go back through time when Cleveland High School was the tender age of five years old. At this time a club was organized, a club that has become well known and honored in our school. It goes by the appropriate name of Cle Cuks, standing for Cleveland Cooks. The activity, however, of the club is more than cooking tasty dishes; its real purpose is to teach its members to become more gracious hostesses. The membership is limited to eighteen girls since our appliances and materials are limited. These girls are divided into three groups which serve as hostesses at each meeting. Special club activities include our semi-annual weiner roast, our senior party and our annual football or basketball spread in honor of the teams.

If you were to peek in at a meeting on a Thursday after school in Room 10, you would probably see something like this:

A group of members hustling and bustling around preparing something very appetizing while the remaining girls look on hungrily waiting to be served. The attitude of Cle Cuks is always a cheerful and a helpful one, even when it's time to clean up and wash the dishes. We have Miss Richeson to thank for this attitude because she is a wonderful sponsor.

The team had a very good match season, winning the William Randolph Hearst Trophy Match for the six consecutive year. However, the club suffered a great loss in the death of "Chief" Ralph Wilson on September 12, 1946. Mr. William F. Hall, Mr. Robert Davisson and Mr. Julian have taken over and are doing a fine job.

On Sept. 13, the Fighting Dutch of Cleveland High opened their 1946 football season by downing the highly favored McBride eleven, 24-0. Cleveland struck four times in the last three quarters, while holding the Colonaders completely helpless with its powerful defense. Rich Witt carried the ball over three times for the Orange and Blue.

Cleveland lost its next two games, although both were non-league encounters. The first went to Du Pont Manual of Louisville, Kentucky. They handed the Dutch their worst defeat of the season, 41-7.

Football

John Sims scored the lone Cleveland tally, mid-way in the second quarter, with a circus catch in the end-zone. The other game went to Belleville, 14-13. This was a tough one to lose.

The Dutchmen got off on a good foot in their first league contest. They shut out the Southwest Longhorns, 13-0.

This victory was offset by the next two defeats at the hands of McKinley and Roosevelt. Both were among the top teams in the district and both beat us 7-0. Cleveland came close to victory in each case and played a superb defensive ball. Richard Ortmann's punting was a big factor in these close contests.

In the Central game, the Dutch really let go with their offensive strength. They easily rolled over the Red Wings, 26-0.

Against the tail-ender, Soldan, the south siders had a battle on their hands for the first half, but finally pulled away in the last quarter to win 26-7.

Against Beaumont, our last game of the season, the winner was to go into third place and the loser into fourth. Cleveland got off to a terrific start, jumping to an early 12-0 lead. At half time the score read Cleveland 12, Beaumont 6. Then in the second half the Dutch defense weakened enough to allow two Blue Jacket touchdowns to cross the goal line, and give Beaumont the victory 19-12.

Some of the boys mentioned on the all-star teams of the various papers of this district were: Bob Bayers, Center; Rich Ortmann, Back; Bill Hample, Norm Zesch, End.

Rich Ortmann
Quarterback

A triple threat and a hard tackler. 6 feet tall, 180 pounds.

Bob Granda
Right Half

A hard tackler with swivel hips on offense, 5 feet 9 inches tall, 165 pounds.

Rich Witt
Left Half

A good broken field runner, and a great passer. 5 feet 11 inches tall, 170 pounds.

Football

Vernon Grosse
End

A rugged defensive master. 5 feet 11 inches tall, 165 pounds.

Bob Bayers
Center

A terrific line backer. He calls defensive signals. 6 feet tall, 180 pounds.

Bob Otto
Fullback

A line plunger, 5 feet 10 inches tall, 170 pounds.

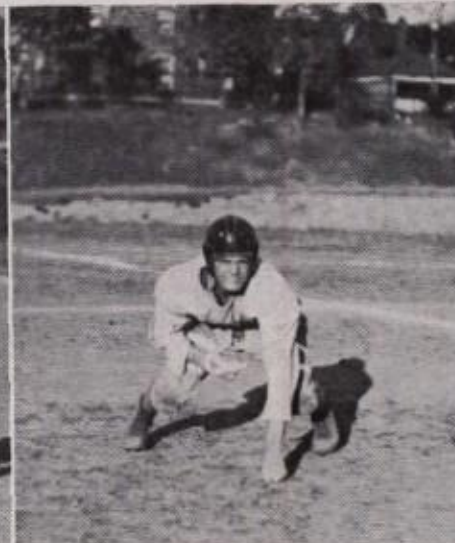

Bill Hampel
Tackle

A very rugged lineman and an asset to any team. 5 feet 11 inches tall, 170 pounds.

Bob Magaz
Tackle

Captain of the team and a great lineman. 5 feet 9 inches tall, 190 pounds.

Gene Mueller
Guard

Rough and rugged. 6 feet tall, 175 pounds.

Ken Voertman
Guard

Little but mighty, he can move the biggest. 5 feet 7 inches tall, 165 pounds.

Bill Nash
Tackle

A veteran lineman with a lot of charge. 6 feet 1 inch tall, 195 pounds.

Football - B Team

The main purpose of the "B" team is to develop players, who in future years will replace graduates on the varsity. The "B" team record, although it does not impress the eye to the fullest extent, does show that many of the players may later star for Cleveland. The "B" team lost to a strong St. Louis U. High team in the closing minutes of play. Cleveland's only touchdown came on a pass by Carl Moore to right end Bob Kelly. Cleveland 0, St. Louis U. High 13.

The second attempt for a victory was smothered by McBride at Sherman Park, 19 to 0. Cleveland's third try for a victory was turned back by McKinley late in the fourth quarter on an 85 yard run through an intercepted pass. The score was Cleveland 0, McKinley 6.

The fighting Dutchmen came through with a win over the Longhorns 13-6. Joe Haenchen and Jay Willoughby scored the two touchdowns for Cleveland. Haenchen kicked the extra point. Cleveland bowed to Roosevelt in a game which featured hard charging lines on both teams. Cleveland's score came when Henry Oltrogge went over on Roosevelt's end. Kaston plunged for the extra point. The score: Cleveland 7, Roosevelt 14.

Cleveland downed a fighting Central eleven at Fairgrounds Park. Cleveland was master of the situation all the way. Both touchdowns were made by Jack Gragg. Hank Oltrogge made the extra point. The score: Cleveland 13, Central 0.

Cleveland came through with a win in the final game of the season by defeating a rough Soldan team, 6 to 0. The highlight of the game came on a pass from Joe Haenschen to Dale Horton for the only score.

Man to man, the squad pays tribute to Head Coach George Meinhardt, and B Team Coach Jack Noon.

Bob Ferguson and Bruce Greaves.

The 1946-47 Basketball season began on Dec. 6 when Cleveland traveled to Hancock where they successfully opened the season by defeating the home team 48 to 27. This game earmarked Cleveland as one of the top teams of the district. They were even more convincing at Brentwood on Dec. 10 when they defeated the host county team 41 to 19.

The Public High League season was officially opened with the Cleveland-Blewett game on Friday, Dec. 13, at Beaumont's Gym. Blewett made it a close game, but Cleveland met the challenge and was pulling ahead as the game-ending horn sounded. Final score: Cleveland 48, Blewett 41.

On Dec. 20 Kirkwood played the perfect host to the Orange and Blue basketeers, letting them take home a 40-28 victory.

Then came Christmas and the annual Normandy Tournament. We moved merrily along, defeating Jennings, St. Mary's and Southwest, but were defeated by Roosevelt by a score of 42-41.

Coach Jansen's charges started out the new year right, by defeating Southwest 52-36 in a League contest at Cleveland on Jan. 3. Central fell by the wayside a week later on Jan. 10 when the Jansenmen hit the hoop for a 45-33 win. Webster Groves furnished the competition on Jan. 14, and the Cleveland courtmen came off with Victory No. 10 to the tune of 51-31.

Basketball

Playing at home on Jan. 24, Cleveland gained sweet revenge for the questionable one-point defeat administered by Roosevelt in the Normandy Tournament. The score was 52-43. Frank "Sleepy" Miller was playing his last Public High League game, due to a new rule making ninth-termers ineligible, and he made his last one his best one.

The following week, on Jan. 31, Cleveland traveled to Beaumont to meet the Bluejackets in the game which would probably decide the city championship. Playing without "Sleepy" Miller, 6' 5" center, Cleveland lost all its zip, displayed in previous games, and the ball game ended Beaumont 45, Cleveland 34.

Play was resumed on Feb. 4 with McBride as the guest five. The home team suddenly came to life in the last four minutes to turn a 3-point deficit into a 3-point margin of victory, 46-43. Next came Soldan in a league game on Feb. 7 and they bowed 69-19 as Cleveland hit a new high-mark for score this season.

Coaches and officials rated Cleveland No. 2 and Normandy No. 3 so that the game at Normandy gave promise to be a great contest. Normandy's huge gymnasium was filled to capacity, and no one went home disappointed—except the Cleveland quintet. They lost a well-played ball game 43-37.

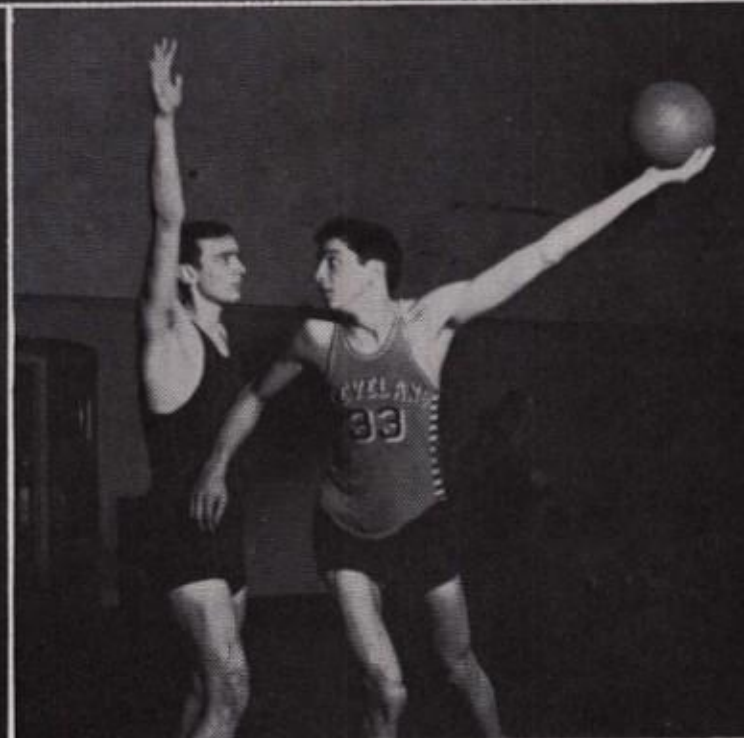

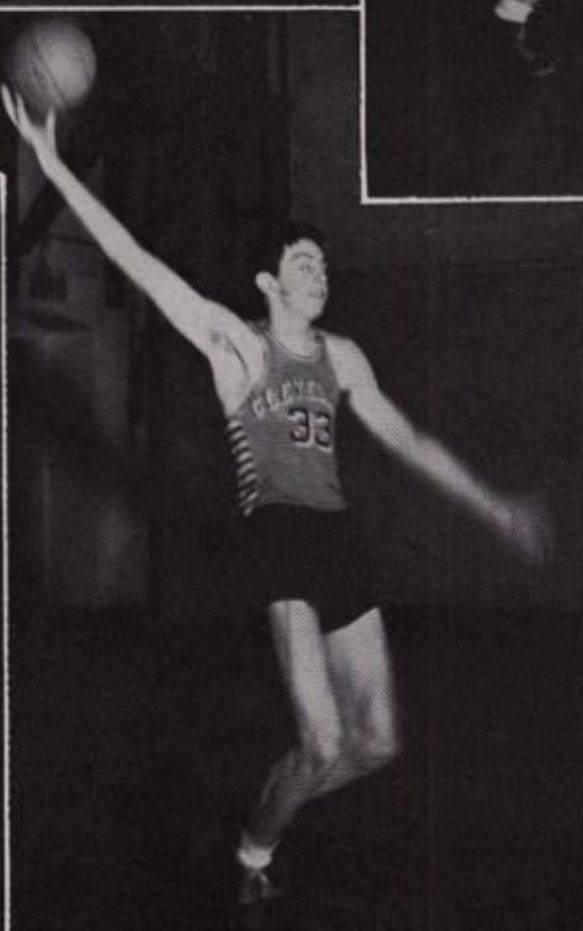

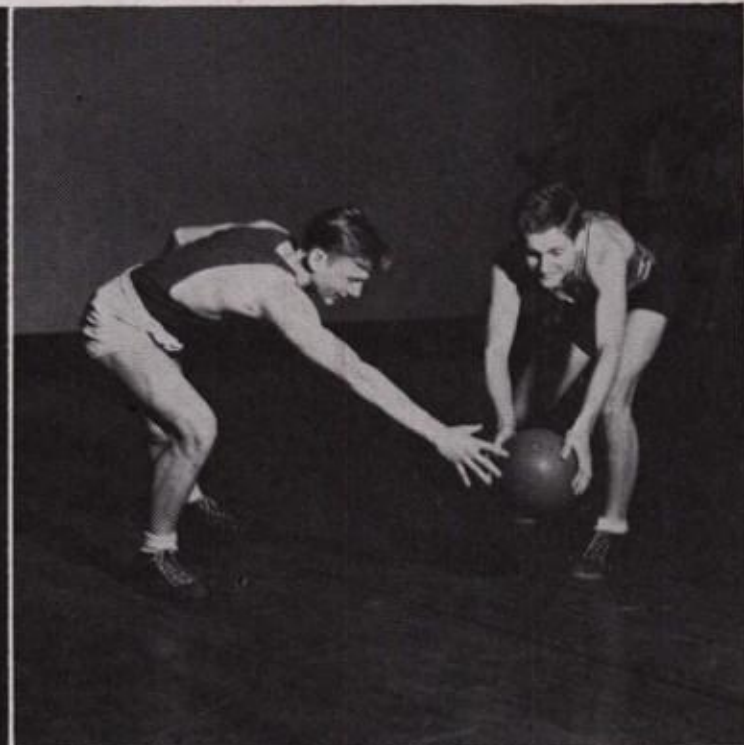

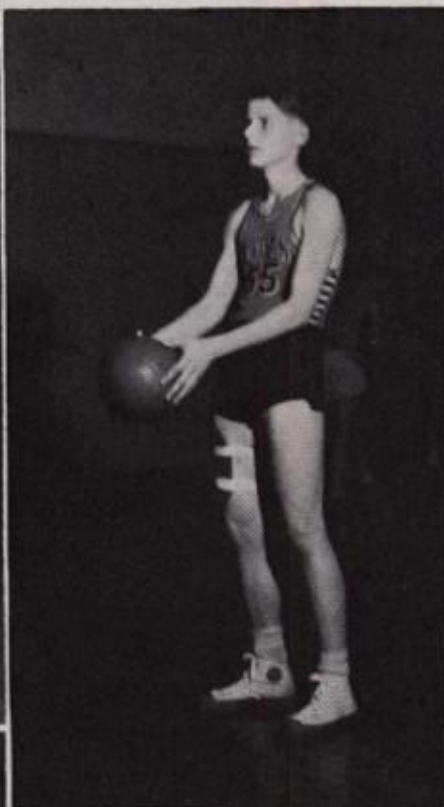

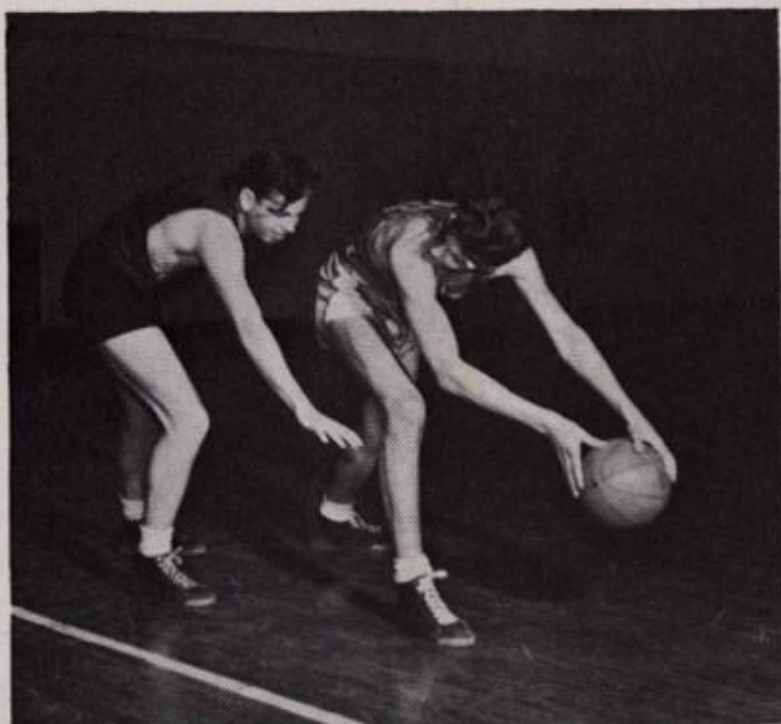

Hadley presented the sharp-shooting Clevelandites with victory No. 15 and a new scoring high of 76.

Next came the Maplewood game at the Maplewood gym on Feb. 18. Cleveland, at full strength for the first time all season, bagged this one 52-40. McKinley furnished the opposition for our final league contest on Feb. 21. Cleveland clinched second place by taking this one 58-27.

The highly-trained Cleveland basketball machine showed real strength in the Brentwood sub-regional play from Feb. 24-29. They advanced to the quarterfinals by trouncing John Burroughs 59-35. They advanced to the semi-finals by the record-breaking score of 83-48. Clayton was the luckless team which scored enough points to win most ball games but still lost this one. Hard-fighting Kirkwood fell before the Orange and Blue steamroller 53-37 as Cleveland moved into the finals. Southwest became victim No. 20 in the championship game of the sub-regional, losing 50-34.

In regional play at the Washington University Field House during the week of March 3-7, a jinx, which has been operating for three years now, worked over Cleveland's chances for the State Championship, again with damaging results when the Orange and Blue courtmen were upset by University City, 33-29.

The "B" team consists of players who have not been in school longer than two years. All the players hope some day to play on the varsity and through the teachings of Coach Meinhardt of the fundamentals of basketball, some will achieve this goal.

These boys have played many games with other schools and as a result have had real experiences, have learned the spirit of competition, have enjoyed good sportsmanships, and have made lasting friendships.

All the members of our squad are outstanding in their own right, some may be better than others in playing the game, but all are real sportsmen. We thank Coach Meinhardt for his patience, his teachings and his encouragement through the season.

The boys take turns in acting as captain. This gives them a chance to show whether they have leadership. Watch the varsity team next year and see how many of the B team make the grade.

The track season at Cleveland got off to a good start in mid-February and under the guidance and assistance of Coaches Ballin and Meinhardt, the squad began working toward its first league competition with Southwest.

The team went on through the season finishing second only to Beaumont and Roosevelt. Backed by such excellent trackmen as Bob Minogue, Dan Goetz, Eric Seiler, Ray Kaufmann, and Ray Knirr in the Senior Division; and in the Junior Division were: Fred Gebert, Ernie Telthorst, Bill Ebert, and Vern Grosse. The team showed a great improvement over previous years.

For the first time in three years a team was entered in state and district competition. Bob Minogue gained the only points credited to Cleveland in the State Meet, taking first in the 440 yard dash, running the fastest in his career, 51.9 seconds. He also took fifth in the broad jump.

In the Interscholastic Track and Field meet on May 29th, the squad took second in the Senior Division and a third in the meet. This was a great improvement over our last year's sixth place. Bob Minogue was the high point man for the team.

The men who received letter awards were: Seniors: Bob Minogue, George Uhlig, Ray Knirr, Ray Kaufmann, Eric Seiler, Floyd Koehler, Dan Goetz, Bill Schaefer, John Vincel, Gene Klein, Gene Uhlemeyer, Don Watson, Don Schrader, Elgin Hoffarth, and Bob Bess.

In the Junior Division: Bill Ebert, Fred Gebert, Bob Stewart, Ernie Telthorst, Paul Boeger, Glen Rigsbey, Bill Tebbin, Richard Savage, Virgil Burke, and Vernon Grosse, also the managers Don Marsh, Elmer Loesh, and Bob Kersting.

The team finished a very successful season with hopes for an even better team in 1947.

 Row 4: Richard Groepper, Richard L. Walters, Arthur Huhn.

On October 15, 1946, came a call to all boys interested in try-outs for the Swimming team. This call brought some thirty boys out. Of the thirty who came out, eighteen were selected to represent Cleveland.

In a meeting three weeks later Norman Borcharding was elected Captain by the members of the team.

On February 19, 1947, the 15th Annual Interscholastic Swimming Meet was held at Wilson Pool, Washington University. In this meet Cleveland placed four men and two relay teams to take a strong second place. The boys who placed were Lake, in the 50-yard free style; Boeger, 100 yard breast; Breidert, 100 yard back, and Borcharding, in the 100 yard free style. The medley relay was the championship relay of the meet. It was made up of Breidert, Boeger, and Borcharding. These three boys broke the only record that was broken in interscholastic swimming meet in the '46-'47 season, by swimming the 150 yard medley in 1:29.1. The old record was 1:29.5. The 200 yard free style relay placed fourth and was made up of Lake, Zeller, Mueller, and Bentz.

The loss of Bob Thone and Bob Stanek at mid term weakened the team and probably kept us from winning the meet.

Due to a retroactive rule, our team was barred from legally entering competition in the State Swimming Meet.

The Cleveland tennis team played for the first time in two years under the efficient guidance of a new coach, Mr. Schueneman. Although it finished seventh in the league games, winning six matches and losing twenty-four, we give notice that we are to be reckoned with next year.

Due to the lapse of one year without any guiding hand and to the inexperience of most of its members, the boys could not be expected to work well in tournament play.

The outcome cannot be measured in league standing or matches won, but served principally to get Cleveland back on its feet. The lessons learned this year will serve as a foundation upon which Mr. Schueneman may direct teams of the future.

The boys playing singles were Jamison, Evertz, Jost, and Diringer; those playing doubles were Schrader and Bender, Rigsbey and Jost, and Sawyer and Richter.

All in all the boys displayed true school spirit in upholding the sporting traditions and the hard aggressiveness that typifies sports at Cleveland High School.

Cleveland's baseball team of '46 was a young team, but made a good showing, finishing in third place, with seven wins and seven losses.

The backbone of the team was the fine work of the infield, Rich Franke playing first base. He contributed many extra base hits to the team's attack. Ray Meyer, playing his last season at Cleveland at second base, hit a healthy 406, and was the veteran who steadied the infield. Norm Supper played a very good game at third base. Norm's steady hitting and his strong arm helped the team a great deal. Gil Tribble had a very fine season both on the field and at bat, hitting .371 and covering a lot of ground at short. Bill Miller, playing center field, did a very fine job, and he should be much better next year. Abe Rubin showed much promise as a hitter and fielder and contributed more than his share of hits to the victories of the Orange and Blue. Bob Eyerman's fine hitting at the beginning of the season helped the team over many rough spots. Le Roy Gutter, a freshman, appearing in quite a few games, showed great promise as a hitter and should help the team a great deal in future years. Pat McGuire and Don Burian also turned in creditable jobs in the outfield. Al Repple and Rich English shared the catching duties, both contributing timely hits to the team's attack. They also deserve much credit for the fine way that they handled the pitchers. Bob English and Bill Franz did most of the pitching for the team and both turned in some good games, Bob pitching a one hit game against Roosevelt.

Sub-par fielding lost a few games that should have been won. The team's batting average is .296. Most of the boys from this season will be back next season and with a little hustle and fight, they should enjoy a successful season.

Coach Jansen deserves praise for the success of the team these last two seasons. We hope for continued success. The team could use a little more student support.

The Girls Athletic Association of Cleveland was organized in the fall of 1927. Since 1927 this organization has grown steadily with the assistance of all the girls at Cleveland.

Every girl who attends Cleveland is a member of the G. A. A. and is urged to participate in its activities. This permits them to win the awards given for performance and attendance.

The G. A. A. sponsors practically all of the girls' sports, and physical activities. Material is bought with the money collected in the form of voluntary dues.

The G. A. A. has divided its activities in the Fall, Winter, and Spring seasons. In the Fall, table tennis, volleyball, and hiking are offered. Winter sports afford bowling, basketball, and roller skating, while softball, tennis, and horseshoes are offered in the Spring. Swimming is offered in all three seasons and may be taken for credit during the regular school periods.

The Girls' Athletic Association of Cleveland High School is an organization which is open to every girl who attends Cleveland.

The fact that between two and three hundred girls participate in bowling, over one hundred in roller-skating, approximately two hundred belong to volleyball teams and the same number to basketball, about three hundred take part in swimming and many more are members of the softball teams and tennis teams, proves that the girls themselves not only enjoy the activities, but realize their value and appreciate the opportunities that are offered to them.

The year terminates in a large "Play Day" in which all the girls of the school take part in their favorite activities.

All of these activities are conducted by the teachers of the physical education department.

Volleyball

Girls are becoming more and more athletic-minded in the woman's world of today, and here at Cleveland with quite a goal to attain the G. A. A. members are going all out for sports. On Monday and Tuesday afternoon some 250 girls clad in blue meet on the tennis courts, weather permitting, or in the girls' gym to participate in their favorite activity, volleyball.

So many girls are interested in this sport that when indoor playing is necessary the teams have to work on shifts. Each team, composed of about ten or twelve girls, has an opportunity to play every other team. In this way, the team coming out on Monday with the highest number of victories is the champion and is challenged to play the champion of the Tuesday afternoon games. Our interscholastic games are really, then, games between two teams of the same school. However, the spirit and enthusiasm for the game prevails just as in boys' sports.

Table Tennis

One of the many fall sports offered to the girls of Cleveland is table tennis. Two groups of girls meet every Tuesday and Wednesday after school in the lunchroom. Because of the large membership there are two shifts on each day. The table tennis sets are furnished by the G. A. A. and the girls play to improve their skill in the game.

Plenty of keen competition and many breath-taking moments in the game help to make table tennis a favorite sport for many girls. The fun had while playing the game and the enjoyable times spent on Tuesdays and Wednesdays after school will last in the minds of many and will contribute to a pleasant memory of Cleveland.

The girls who participated in this sport are very grateful to the sponsors. A note of thanks goes to Miss Ulbricht from the Tuesday group, and the Wednesday group gives their thanks to Miss Gunther.

Girls Basketball

A girl need not be an expert basketball player to "make a team," for the aim of this G. A. A. activity is to get all the girls to participate and to learn the skills of basketball. Though there are no girls' interscholastic games, a competitive spirit is aroused among the girls of Cleveland themselves.

There are six girls to a team, and the teams formed, play against each other in a tournament. In this way a championship team is determined. Since basketball is such a popular sport among the girls, it is necessary to play on two afternoons. The championship teams meet in a morning game to determine the championship girls' basketball team of Cleveland. To this game everyone in the school is invited.

Basketball develops coordination between mind and body, it develops teamwork, and good sportsmanship. We, the girls of Cleveland, may thank our physical education teachers for their fine guidance and sacrifice of time in order that high standards may be upheld.

Roller Skating

Did you know that a group of some 150 Cleveland girls go roller-skating every Thursday at 3 o'clock at a hall near Cleveland High School, seniors as well as Freshmen.

It's very relaxing to roller skate after a full day of school work.

Roller-skating is a good combination of physical exercise and fun. Roller-skating has become one of the most popular G. A. A. activities for the winter season. Not all of the girls are experts, but falls are taken good naturedly. Many girls own nice white shoe skates and can skate backwards as well as do fancy steps. Other girls have skates supplied without extra charge. It only takes practice. Come on, girls, and join us. All are welcome to spend a Thursday afternoon skating with friends. You may become a figure skater. At least your figure should be considered.

Have you even wanted to go for a hike in the fall, when the leaves are turning and skies are overcast? Many enthusiastic Cleveland girls feel this urge and join the Hiking Club each autumn. This year, Thursday was chosen as our "Come on! Just one more block!" day.

The destinations for these trips are chosen carefully, with an eye to beauty and interest as well as distance. Sometimes, we walk to city parks, such as Carondelet, Bellerive, Tower Grove, Francis, and Benton. Again, we hike to outstanding educational or historical places and tour them with great interest.

We have visited a library, museum, green house, and bakery. The longest hike is always saved for the end of the season, when we carry our supper with us and eat together in one of the parks.

All girls who enjoy out-of-door activities and sporting fellowship, and who, above all, like to hike, are most cordially invited to join the club next year.

Who is afraid of getting wet? Not the group of girls who come out for swimming each Wednesday after school. In fact, after a good workout of Life Saving technique, racing, and building up endurance, the girls feel just a little water soaked! Besides this work, Miss Hehrlein stresses the improvement of each stroke, and much time is put on its form, which is most valuable for your figure.

If you want to have a grand afternoon and accomplish a great deal at the same time . . . come on, girls, get wet, the water is fine!

Membership is open to girls of any term who pass certain tests proving themselves at home in the water.
